Govt in fix as contractor blames KSE, ends life

RDPR minister refuses to quit, CM says any decision after probe

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Udupi

PUTTING the state government and Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Minister KS Eshwarappa in a tight spot, a civil contractor from Belagavi committed suicide in Udupi on Tuesday, alleging that the minister was directly responsible for his extreme step.

The contractor, Santosh Patil, had on March 11 written to Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Jal Shakti Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat, stating, "I would have no other option but to commit suicide if bills and work orders are not released."

Patil had said that he had completed 108 road works worth Rs 4 crore in Hindalga panchayat limits in Belagavi after taking permission from Eshwarappa directly. Eventually, the RDPR Department and Eshwarappa's associates refused to help him get the work orders or the bills paid, he had alleged.

As the demand for his resignation grew, Eshwarappa refused to step down. The minister, who was in Mysuru attending a party programme, said, "During a TV interview, Santosh Patil had made allegations that I and my supporters had demanded a 40 percent bribe for getting a contract. Patil had stated that he had given a complaint against me to Modi, Home minister Amit Shah and other Central ministers. I had filed a defamation case against Patil."

Eshwarappa said, "I spoke to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on the issue. He told me not to worry. He said he will collect all details from the police and order a proper inquiry. I personally requested the CM to get the investigation done soon, as false messages are being spread against me." CONTINUED ON: P4

ON the heels of the demise of contractor and BJP leader Santosh Patil, who reportedly died by suicide in a private lodge in Udupi on Tuesday, informed sources told TNIE that the village road in Hindalga, for which Patil was reportedly seeking payment, was allegedly built "without any sanction order from the government".

In February, president of Hindalga GP in Belagavi had written to the RDPR department asking for the work order and payment for the village road that was built. "The officials went through the files and to their surprise, found that no such sanction was given for road construction in Hindalga village," added sources.

Santosh's friends concur that he had taken up road works without a work order, as he had been assured that it would be given later. CONTINUED ON: P4

SC tells BDA to allot 150 acres to EWS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) has been ordered by the Supreme Court to earmark 150 acres of land in Dr Shivaram Karanth Layout to the Rajiv Gandhi Housing Corporation Limited to cater to economically weaker sections (EWS), said Judge AV Chandrashekar, chairman of the SC-appointed committee, on Tuesday. The authority is proposed to build at least 15,000 flats with a dimension of 500 sqft each.

The committee has been set up to identify lawful constructions in the layout to regularise them. Following the recommendations of the committee, the apex court has regularised 1,475 buildings that have come up in 17 villages from 2014 to 2018. P2

Snaking queues for fuel in Colombo | AFP

Rajapaksas face 'Lanka spring' heat

DILRUKSHI HANDUNNETTI
@ Colombo

FOR many days, despite ongoing protests in various parts of the island calling for the resignation Gotabaya Rajapaksa and a change in the political system, the Rajapaksas maintained stoic silence. There had been no explanation for the economic morass, plans to contain the situation to avert further economic decline or a simple apology as Sri Lankans continue to face their biggest economic crisis since independence. The queues are long, tempers short, and essentials are becoming scarce by the day.

Despite the silence, the past week saw some dramatic moments, including a spate of invalid resignations by government ministers, the exit of Basil Rajapaksa as finance minister and Ajith Nivaard Cabraal from the post of Central Bank's governor, two men faulted by the people for causing "system collapse" through corruption and mismanagement of the island economy. As public despair grows, so does resentment towards the ruling family. CONTINUED ON: P11

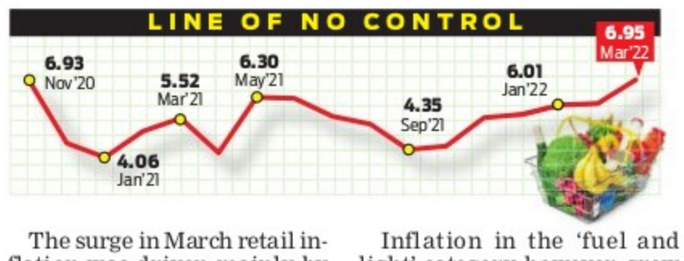
Retail inflation at 17-month high

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

RETAIL inflation soared to a 17-month high of 6.95% in March with the prices of most commodities soaring, data published by the National Statistical Office showed on Tuesday. It is the third straight month when the inflation remained above the Reserve Bank of India's comfort zone of 6%. Retail inflation, measured by Consumer Price Index (CPI), was 6.07% in February and 6.01% in January. The CPI inflation was 5.52% in March 2021.



The surge in March retail inflation was driven mainly by costly food items, which registered a 7.7% growth compared to 5.9% in February. Vegetables prices rose 11.6%, edible oils 18.8%, meat and fish by 9.6% and cereals by 4.9% during the month under review.

Inflation in the 'fuel and light' category, however, grew at a slower pace of 7.5% in March (compared to 8.7% in February) as most of the price hikes in petrol, diesel and LPG happened in the later part of the month.

Nimhans part of largest brain study

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

THIS could be the holy grail for neuroscientists in mapping and understanding the human brain through its life span. A team of researchers from across six continents has created a series of brain charts -- the largest ever dataset, spanning the entire human lifespan from a 15-week-old-foetus to 100-year old-adult -- that show how human brains expand rapidly in early life and slowly shrink as people age.

The study published in 'Nature', world's leading British multidisciplinary weekly science journal, is the pioneer study to map the human brain growth curves, and has contributions from international researchers, including Indian researchers. P5

Grant TDR papers in 3 months: HC

BBMP's stand unjustified, says court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka high court termed the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) stand of denying promised Transferable Development Rights (TDR) certificates to the land losers, saying that the lands are no longer required, 'falls short of constitutional morality', and directed the state government and the civic body to grant TDR certificates to the petitioners who have lost their lands for formation/widening of roads within three months.

"If delay is brooked, the BBMP should pay cost to the petitioners at the rate of Rs 1,000 per week per sq m of relinquished lands, in addition to risking contempt action," cautioned Justice Krishna S Dixit while allowing a batch of petitions filed by DV Venkateshappa and several others from Bidarahalli Hobli.

The court also clarified that it is open to the petitioners to seek reconveyance of surrendered lands, if they so desire. If representations to this effect are made, the BDA should reconvey the surrendered lands within eight weeks, failing which the same cost should be paid, in addition to risking contempt action. The BBMP can recover the cost if and when paid, personally from the erring officials in accordance with law, the court added.

The petitions were filed by the land losers seeking a direction to the BBMP for issuance of TDR or 'Development Rights Certificates' in respect of lands in question which they have relinquished in favour of BBMP five years ago for the formation/widening of roads.

The BBMP resisted the claim of petitioners whereas the state government sought dismissal of the petitions principally contending that the lands are no longer required and that the same will be returned to the land owners. Even otherwise, the subject lands being situated outside its territorial jurisdictional limits and hence cannot be made use of land and as such TDR certificates cannot be granted, they argued.

Referring to these arguments, the court said that the contention of BBMP is thoroughly unjustified and unconscionable. The petitioners gave up their lands years ago and free of cost, of course, the TDR being the assured recompense. They did it, not for getting the lands back that too at this length of time, the court observed. The court also observed that the petitioners acting on the statutory policy of the state and believing the words of government and BBMP have surrendered valuable lands and thereby altered their position to their disadvantage and to the great benefit of BBMP.

Allotments to be spread across 6 separate blocks

Briefing the media at the BDA head office, the former HC judge said that the apex court on March 31 had called for EWS allotments to be spread across six separate blocks in the layout with 25 acres allocated to each. "The SC has emphasised that the houses need to be spacious. The blocks must be well spread out, multi-storied and the apartments must be constructed under the EWS scheme," he said. The allotment of land will be made under the supervision of the committee, the court had stated. The apex court has also exempted 25 guntas of land from acquisition for forming the layout in Avalahalli belonging to BMS Educational Trust, a part of BMS Institute of Technology, he said. Another 34 guntas at Harohalli have been granted exemption from acquisition due to mismatch of boundaries.

CD reports ready in 971 cases

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

KARANTH LAYOUT

UNDER the supervision of the Supreme Court-appointed Justice A V Chandrashekar Committee, four teams of the Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) has prepared documents -- Correct Dimension (CD) report -- that specify exact details of 971 properties at the Dr K Shivaram Karanth Layout.

Committee member Jayakar Jerome told The New Indian Express, "The Supreme Court has so far regularised 1,475 buildings built between 2014 and 2018 on the recommendations of the committee and CD reports for 971 properties are now in place. The work had been speeded up with the teams carrying out the assessment work in all the 17 villages covered under the Layout. Each team was tasked with readying 10 CD reports a day."

Work on readying the CD reports for this layout, planned 14 years ago, began on December 15, 2021. Sandwiched between Doddaballapur and Hesarghatta, it would become BDA's second biggest layout with 18,975 sites planned on 3,456 acres and 12 guntas.

The CD reports vetted by the committee would be forwarded to the town planning and engineering departments. "The BDA will superimpose on the draft plan proposed for the new layout and ensure that no Civic Amenity sites would be earmarked at these locations," Jerome said. The committee will complete submitting its report in connection with legalisation of buildings by December 31, 2022, he added.

A total of 7,161 applications have been received seeking regularisation of their constructions. The committee is first carrying out the process of regularising houses built between 2014 and 2018.

Unique regularisation certificates

ASKED if the committee can complete ascertaining the status of all 7,161 applications, committee member and former DGP ST Ramesh said the regularisation certificates to be issued for the layout is proving to be a complicated task."

Mango farmers partner with tech firms for sales

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

WHILE everyone awaits the king of fruits to be available at the markets, others choose the best and get them directly delivered from the farm to the door step.

Many apartment complexes, tech parks and tech firms in Bengaluru have directly partnered with mango growers to get the best mangoes directly from the fields. Some have gone a step further and made advance booking of entire farm produce to ensure that supplies are directly supplied to apartments or techies of particular companies.

The direct interaction with customers has benefited the farmers, especially those on outskirts of the city and in Kolar, Ramangara, Mandya, Chikkaballapur and other surrounding areas. This sort of business dealing has also received a thumbs up from the Karnataka State Mango Development and Marketing Corporation Limited (KSMDMCL).

The new business method is an outcome of the pandemic over the last two years. During the pandemic, as sales were affected, many used mobile services to make purchases. Postal orders and sales were also on the rise. When the demand rose, Hopcoms and KSMDMCL set up special counters in tech parks and apartment complexes for sales. During this time farmers shared their details with customers and built a business platform. KSMDMCL Managing Director C Nagaraj said that they were aware of such a tie-up and reckoned it was not a bad concept.

"We are fine as long as the farmers are benefiting from the deal," he said.

Sarjapur-Hebbal: Tenders floated for DPR consultant

BENGALURU: The ball has been set rolling to carry out preparation work on the new 37-km line between Sarajpur and Hebbal via Koramangala, announced by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai in the State budget last month. Tenders to appoint a consultant to ready a Detailed Project Report (DPR) for the line estimated to touch Rs 15,000 crore were out on Monday. The line will be underground for 16.8 km between Hebbal and Koramangala and elevated for the rest of the route. Among the probable stations on this route are Carmelaram, NIMHANS, St Johns Hospital, Town Hall, Cunningham Road, Dirary Circle and Mekhri Circle. An eight-month period has been provided for readying the DPR which will provide details on the length of the line, the number of stations, the underground and overground routes, depot and ridership. The last date for submission of bid is May 17 at 3 pm with the technical bid slated to open later.

Farmers' protest today over PRR compensation

BENGALURU: Unhappy over the compensation set for acquiring their lands for the 73-km Peripheral Ring Road project, farmers are set to stage a protest at Freedom Park on Wednesday, and have planned to lay siege to the BDA head office at Kumara Park West for which permission has been denied, said a top BDA official. The farmers are demanding they be paid compensation under the new Land Acquisition Act 2013. However, the BDA is keen on paying the compensation as per the old Act as the acquisition process for this project started in 2006. "The Supreme Court too had ruled in favour of BDA. However, it has left open some ground for negotiation with the State government," the official added. The Supreme Court ruling on January 28 this year will help BDA by knocking Rs 3,000 crore out of a whopping Rs 15,475 crore it was supposed to shell out only as land compensation under the new Act. Around 1,810 acres of land have been purchased from around 3,000 farmers for the project, which was proposed 17 years ago.

Job training should start in school: Min

This is necessary to meet modern-day needs to resolve unemployment problems, and give children a bright future, Minister for Higher Education, IT/BT, CN Ashwath Narayan said.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

13th April : Deep in the background of all current planetary patterns is an intense and contradictory relationship between two great planets, Uranus and Pluto. This brings everything that's safe and secure into a direct collision with all that's dreamy and imaginative. If you're confused, don't worry. So are many other people.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You haven't always had life your own way, but the boot is now on the other foot: some people may well get away with taking advantage of you, but not for long. However, all things considered, you may be wise to give way gracefully; your natural charm has not deserted you.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Venus, the planet which rules your emotions, may be in a supportive relationship to your sign, but the fact that it is making so many helpful aspects to other planets, must mean that your social and romantic life is going through a lively and stimulating phase.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The strongest planet in your solar chart is now the Moon, so you must expect to feel just that much more emotional than usual. However, you will soon be weeping tears of joy rather than sorrow. In fact, those of you favoured most are the carefree and young-at-heart.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
It's difficult to make forecasts for Cancerians at the moment, mainly because the planetary picture is so complicated. However, we can say that today you'll be in one of your periodic secretive moods, if possible, hiding yourself away from the public gaze.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
The past few weeks have seen so much financial uncertainty that it's hard to believe you're heading for a smoother ride. If important discussions are now in progress, then don't force the pace; other people require more time to make up their minds.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Being aware of others' needs is natural to you, and your selfless qualities can only do your reputation good at work. However, you must try to make partners and colleagues aware of their own responsibilities. It is time that they started playing their full part in the proceedings.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Underneath your tender and gracious exterior, you can be a tough cookie. Now that the aggressive planet Mars is giving you such backing, you will be able to steamroller colleagues into accepting your wishes. Family members should be the first to bend to your will.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There is a danger of taking on too much at any one time. Certainly, friends will be on hand to back you up, but for the next few weeks you must watch your tendency to go behind people's backs. It is much better to come out and be totally straight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Mercury and Venus are the two planets signifying your social contacts at the moment. The fact that they are in mysterious and creative sections of your horoscope, suggests that all in this department is not as it seems, but the answers may not be available for another couple of weeks.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You must try to realise that although change is difficult, it is no easier to stay the same. Indeed, in the long run, if you cut loose now, you will shed a number of troublesome burdens. The great thing about the astrological universe is the way in which you can attract welcome opportunities just by freeing up extra space.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Deep down you know that certain aspects of your professional life must alter, and that your worldly ambitions must be called into question. Inevitably, friends will remind you of such stark realities, and while you may be slightly irritated, really you should be grateful.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may have been expected to pay out more than you think is reasonable, but if you question your bills and debts, you may discover that you have indeed been overcharged. Home affairs must dominate your financial attention today, and you'd like it if others paid their way.

₹5L Jewellery disappears ahead of wedding, bride suspects beauticians

The team was called for questioning and has claimed innocence, says official

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

BARELY a few minutes before the nuptials, crafty wedding guests or helpers reportedly crept into the bride's room and stole her gold ornaments. The bride, M Poornima, a 27-year-old private firm employee, had stepped out of the room for the mangalasutra dharane, at the Mahalakshmi Mantapa in the Art of Living premises on Kanakapura Road.

The needle of suspicion pointed towards the make-up artists who were inside the bride's room, but had reportedly left when Poornima went out for the ritual. Poornima returned to her room to wear the ornaments, but found them missing. The accused had made away with ornaments, weighing 102 grams and worth around Rs 5 lakh. Poornima, a resident of Ranganatha Layout on Kanakapura Road, said the ornaments were gifted to her by her husband, Vinod Kumar.

The make-up artists, who were summoned by police after a complaint was registered on Sunday, claimed innocence. Police are in the process of obtaining details of the other invitees.

"The complainant suspects the involvement of the make-up artists whose services she had taken for the bridal make-up. She has stated that the artists were in the room when she stepped out for the rituals. After she returned to the room, she claims that she did not see them. The matter was immediately brought to the notice of the Art of Living staff. The ashram's security personnel have checked the guests and the ornaments were not found with any of them. Since the make-up artists had already left, they were not checked," said an officer, based on the statements of the newly married woman.

"The make-up artists were called for questioning and have claimed innocence. The case is still under investigation and the gold ornaments are yet to be recovered," the officer added.

Cops intensify probe into doc's murder attempt case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Sadshivanagar police have intensified the probe into a murder attempt on 92-year-old Dr Shivalingaiah – founder trustee of Dr BR Ambedkar Medical and Engineering Colleges. A care taker and personal secretary of the nonagenarian are suspected to be behind the murder attempt, the police said.

The two had allegedly hatched a conspiracy to take over Shivalingaiah's properties worth a few crores. The victim, who was being treated at a private hospital, is suspected to have been administered tablets containing aluminium in coffee by the suspects, the police said. Medical tests found high levels of aluminium in the victim's body that could have turned fatal. The victim's son, Dr Ravi Prakash, filed a complaint with the Sadashivanagar police, who along with a Forensic Science Laboratory (FSL) team, visited the victim's residence and conducted an inspection.

The police are also collecting information from the doctors who are treating the victim.

Both the caretaker and the personal secretary were working with the victim for over 15 years. The victim was also allegedly made to sign on blank stamp papers. The caretaker also allegedly prepared documents to show that the victim had married her.

"The case is being investigated. No arrests have been made yet as the role of the suspects needs to be proved. The opinion of experts is being sought. A case of murder along with other sections of the Indian Penal Code have been registered based on the complaint filed by the son," said an official.

LUKEWARM RESPONSE

Booster cost drops, yet only few takers

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

A FEW private hospitals started providing booster doses at the reduced rate of Rs 386 on Tuesday, to the relief of those aged 18 and above, while a few hospitals continued to charge higher rates. Some hospitals had dropped their rates on Monday itself.

According to Dr Rajashekar Y L, secretary of the Private Hospitals and Nursing Homes Association (PHANA), many private hospitals have not accepted free additional doses offered by vaccine companies to compensate for the excess money private hospitals paid them when they purchased vaccine stocks at the older price, fearing wastage of doses due to lack of demand. They prefer a refund, he said.

Ever since the drive began on Sunday, only 2,218 people between 18 and 59 years of age were vaccinated with the precautionary dose, while 4,07,88,909 people are vaccinated with the first dose and 3,88,77,844 with the second dose. Although the cost of Covaxin and Covishield was reduced by vaccine companies on Saturday to Rs 225, private hospitals which had already purchased the vaccines at the old cost, continued to charge the old rates on Sunday. But after the government and vaccine companies agreed to compensate hospitals for the excess money paid for the vaccines at the older price, in the form of free doses, they reduced the prices on Monday. "Since many private hospitals are awaiting refund instead of additional vaccines, they have no choice but to pass on the cost to patients," Rajashekar said.

Meanwhile, Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar said, "We could handle the third wave well only because of vaccination. Though Covid-19 cases have come down, with new variants including XE, ME surfacing, it is better to get vaccinated with precautionary doses."

'VACCINATION ONLY WAY TO STAVE OFF FOURTH WAVE'

Bengaluru: Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar on Tuesday said that vaccination was the only way to beat the potential fourth wave of Covid-19. Referring to the issue that many are yet to the take their second dose of the vaccine, and pointing to studies, Sudhakar said: "Predictive studies opine that the fourth wave will start in June-July and last till September. Karnataka is prepared to face it," he said. He told the media, "There is no need to worry as of now. Masks are still essential and there will be no relaxation. Over 5,000 children aged 6-12 years who are not yet eligible for the vaccine will be tested. The new XE variant is prominent in eight countries and all those coming from there are being screened."

Home Minister Araga Jnanendra said a thorough and fair probe would be conducted into the suicide of contractor Santosh Patil. He said he was in constant touch with the Udupi SP. "The cause of the incident will be revealed only after detailed probe," he said. Replying to a demand by Congress to arrest RDPR Minister K S Eshwarappa, he said it is not possible to arrest a minister because of their demand.

No last rites until KSE is arrested: Santosh's kin

Wife Jayashree, brother Prashant blame minister for Santosh's suicide; pressure on Bommai to drop Eshwarappa from Cabinet

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

THE State Government is under immense pressure to arrest RDPR Minister KS Eshwarappa and expel him from the Cabinet following the suicide of a civil contractor from Belagavi, Santosh Patil, also a BJP worker, who had levelled serious allegations against the minister and his associates of demanding commission to clear bills related to road works which he had accomplished under the supervision of RDPR Department in Belagavi.

Santosh's wife Jayashree blamed Eshwarappa for her husband's death while stating that the minister was not fit to remain in the Cabinet. She hit out at Eshwarappa for saying that he did not know who Santosh was. "My husband met Eshwarappa asking him to help pay the bills and the photos of both of them are there with me. My husband invested a huge sum and worked very hard to complete all the road works on the instructions of Eshwarappa," she said.

Santosh's brother Prashant Patil said, "We will not perform the funeral of my brother until Eshwarappa is arrested. Eshwarappa is directly responsible for his death. He committed suicide only due to Eshwarappa's torture. Besides threatening Santosh, Eshwarappa also had registered a case against him. Eshwarappa met Santosh on several occasions and got the works done from the latter."

Recently, Santosh Patil had shared photos of many road works taken up by him and his meetings with Eshwarappa and other leaders.

On Monday night, Santosh had sent a message on WhatsApp to several journalists in Belagavi in which he had said, "RDPR Minister K S Eshwarappa is directly responsible for my death and he should be punished for it. I am taking the extreme step by ignoring all my personal interests. I request with folded hands to the PM, CM and leaders of my Lingayat community, including BS Yediyurappa, to extend a helping hand to my wife and child. Many many thanks to the media friends."

Recently, Santosh had said he initiated 108 road works worth Rs 4 crore in Hindalga panchayat limits, Belagavi, only after taking permission from Eshwarappa directly. Eventually, the RDPR Department and associates of Eshwarappa refused to help him get the work orders or the bills paid, he had alleged.

After financers, who had given loan to Santosh started putting pressure on him to return the money, he had written to PM Narendra Modi and Union Jal Shakti Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat on March 11 (a copy of which is available with TNIE). Patil had said, "I would have no other option but to commit suicide if bills and work orders are not released."

His letter to the PM further reads, "The associates of the Minister (KS Eshwarappa) are annoying me to pay them a commission for the completed works. Honourable sir, I am in great tension and there is huge pressure from creditors who lent me money on interest. If the payment and the work order is not given to me on an immediate basis, then ending my life is the only option."

On the instructions of Eshwarappa on February 12, 2021, Patil had said in the letter to the PM, he took up 108 road works and completed them spending Rs 4 crore. But even after a year of starting the works, the RDPR Department neither paid the bills nor the work orders.

Decision on minister's resignation after probe: CM

VINCENT D'SOUZA @ Mangaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai came out strongly in defense of his Cabinet colleague KS Eshwarappa who is in the eye of the storm over the suicide of contractor Santosh Patil and said that he will think over seeking his resignation only after preliminary investigation into the incident is over.

Giving his first reactions after the news of Santosh's suicide broke, Baommai said he has instructed the police to conduct a comprehensive investigation into the incident in order to bring out the truth. He maintained that there will no interference of any kind from his government.

On Santosh squarely blaming Eshwarappa in his death note, Bommai said the authenticity of the letter will be investigated. "The FSL team from Mangaluru was rushed to Udupi soon after the incident. Police will conduct an organised investigation and as per law," he said.

On being asked whether the government had looked into the allegation of 40 per cent bribe against Eshwarappa made by Santosh when he was alive, Bommai said that former had only levelled charges against the minister in a press conference and had not given any complaint to the government. "Eshwarappa had denied all allegations on the floor of the House. He had also filed a defamation case against him and a newspaper over the issue," he said.

On Opposition parties demand for CM's resignation and subjecting Eshwarappa for interrogation over Patil's suicide, Bommai hit back, asking whether CLP leader Siddaramaiah had stepped down when an officer committed suicide when he was CM. "Let us wait for the preliminary investigation to get over. We will take action based on that," he reiterated.

Police detain Conrgess workers in Shivamogga | SHIMOGA NANDAN

Security beefed up near KSE's house

SHIVAMOGGA: Congress and Youth Congress workers staged protests against RDPR Minister K S Eshwarappa here on Tuesday, demanding his arrest and resignation from the Cabinet. Meanwhile, the police have beefed up security near the minister's house in Shivamogga. Police lathi charged Youth Congress workers when they tried to lay siege to Eshwarappa's residence. They were detained by the police near the railway gate at Malleshwara Nagar. District Youth Congress president Girish laid down on the railway track and raised slogans against Eshwarappa. Meanwhile, workers of the District Congress Committee staged a protest in front of the Congress office. Former MLA and KPCC spokesperson K B Prasanna Kumar demanded that the CM drop Eshwarappa from the Cabinet. ENS

ARREST ESHWARAPPA: CONGRESS

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Opposition Congress on Tuesday demanded that Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai drop Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Minister KS Eshwarappa from the ministry, for his alleged involvement in contractor Santosh Patil's suicide. Congress members also staged a protest near Eshwarappa's residence at Bengaluru and Shivamogga, demanding that a case be registered against him.

"BJP's 40 per cent Commission Government in Karnataka has claimed the life of their own Karyakarta. The victim's pleas to the PM went unanswered. Prime Minister and Chief Minister are complicit," senior Congress leader Rahul Gandhi tweeted. AICC General Secretary in-charge of Karnataka Randeep Singh Surjewala, KPCC President DK Shivakumar and Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah demanded action against the minister, and said they would submit a memorandum to Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot on Wednesday.

Police take away a protesting Congress worker in Bengaluru | VINOD KUMAR T

Shivakumar told reporters that Santosh's suicide note reveals the person behind his death. "Under Section 302 of Indian Penal Code, a case should be filed against Eshwarappa and he should be arrested. He should be sacked from the cabinet and corruption charges filed against him. We are not accusing Eshwarappa of 40 per cent commission, the contractors' association and BJP workers are accusing the state government and minister of corruption... This is not just a suicide, but a murder," he said.

Siddaramaiah pointed out when DySP Ganapathi had committed suicide, then Home Minister KJ George was the accused and he had resigned immediately.

In a series of tweets, Surjewala slammed the State government and Bommai. "You (the CM) are not only condoning corruption, You are also discounting the death of a BJP worker & dishonouring him only to protect Corruption!" he stated.

A staunch BJP supporter

BELAGAVI: Hailing from an agriculture family in Badas village, Belagavi taluk, 35-year-old Santosh Patil had moved to Belagavi city and stayed with his family at Samarth Nagar for the past few months. He was a BJP worker and secretary of Hindu Vahini, a local organisation. For the past few years, Santosh was working as a Class-I civil contractor and taking up work on a regular basis. A staunch supporter of BJP, Patil had displayed the photos of RSS leader Ashok Singhal and former Belagavi MP late Suresh Angadi at his residence in Samarth Nagar.

Contractors have evidence: Assn head

BENGALURU: We have 40-50 contractors with evidence of MLAs and ministers demanding 40% commission to get tenders of work in government departments. But they will furnish the evidence only if the government orders a probe into the issue by an independent agency, because the contractors are afraid of becoming a target, state Karnataka Contractors' Association president D Kempanna said. "He was not a member of our association but was influential as he was a BJP worker. He had called me some 15 days ago and sought help as he was depressed by the minister's harassment," Kempanna told TNIE.

Santosh was promised work order later: Friends

LAST month, the department wrote to the ZP Chief Executive Officer (CEO), Belagavi, asking him to explain how the work order for the road was granted without government sanction. "There are hundreds of private contractors working on government projects. There is no record of work or any written request of payment from Santosh Patil," added sources.

Patil had accused RDPR Minister KS Eshwarappa's associates of demanding 40 per cent commission for releasing payment. He and the other contractors had completed 108 roads works under Hindalga GP limits, investing their own money, and taking loans from friends, family and financial institutions. Patil had started work on oral assurances of public representatives and spent Rs 4 crore, his friend Shankar (name changed) claimed.

Eshwarappa had said that he did not know Santosh Patil, and that he had not been given any official order from the department to take up work. RDPR Additional Chief Secretary had also clarified that no work order was issued as the works were not sanctioned, so the question of making payment did not arise.

"Political games and corruption killed Santosh Patil. It was not suicide that has ended him," alleged Shankar. Santosh started believing a few public representatives and fell into their political trap, though he was warned by friends to stay away from them. Shankar recalled that Santosh took up road work in April 2021, only on the word of a few leaders. After payment was delayed by the government, Santosh was unable to handle the financial mess, he alleged.

Sources said Santosh's creditors were seen visiting his residence to demand their money in the past few days, which had put tremendous pressure on him. Attempts to contact Hindalga GP President Nagesh Manolkar and GP member NS Patil elicited no response.

Group raises corruption charges against Shettar

BENGALURU: The Citizens' Rights Foundation has complained to Governor Thaawarhand Gehlot against the Karnataka Industries Area Development Board (KIADB) and requested him to urge the state government to inquire into an "illegality" committed by KIADB during the tenure of Jagadish Shettar, who was industries minister for about two years. In a letter to Gehlot, the Foundation said the issue concerns acquisition of over 800 acres in seven villages in North Bengaluru for the establishment of the Multi Modal Logistics Park. They pointed out that about 600 acres belongs to agriculturists and about 240 acres is kharab land. Some influential persons, including powerful politicians and bureaucrats, are seeking to make a quick buck by purchasing the land in benami accounts and benefiting from the compensation, they alleged.

Cong chants unity mantra ahead of 2023

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

WITH gaps widening between party leaders in the Karnataka Congress, the All India Congress Committee is taking a number of measures to fight assembly polls unitedly. Starting Tuesday, General Secretary in-charge of Karnataka Randeep Singh Surjewala started meeting MLAs and local leaders from each assembly constituency. This apart, the party is also releasing a second mega list of office-bearers to accommodate more people in the KPCC.

On Tuesday, Surjewala meet Congress MLAs, former MLAs and other local leaders from all 28 assembly constituencies of Bengaluru. Sources in the KPCC said there are a number of groups in the Karnataka Congress, led by KPCC President DK Shivakumar, Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah, MB Patil and others. While AICC hopes to get things moving smoothly, the differences between leaders is a hindrance. Surjewala on Tuesday advised them to keep their differences aside and fight the polls unitedly.

> Surjewala is here to send a message that they will announce candidates' names six months before elections, and everyone in the constituency has to work unitedly for victory
> Congress leader

Sources said the Congress is planning to announce the list of candidates for assembly elections six months ahead, so they get time to work, especially those contesting from constituencies the Congress lost in the last elections. "Surjewala is here to send a message that they will announce candidates' names six months before elections, and everyone in the constituency has to work unitedly for victory," sources said. Surjewala, who will be in Bengaluru till Thursday, will meet Congress MLAs and leaders from Davanagere and Chitradurga districts on Wednesday.

Surjewala will be back on April 18 for two days. "He will be meeting another set of MLAs and leaders from other districts, and personally try to keep hold of leaders in each constituency," sources added.

Recently, the AICC released a list of 149 office-bearers, including 40 vice-presidents and 109 general secretaries. But this list did not go down well with party leaders who could not be accommodated. In order to strengthen the party and accommodate more people as office-bearers, AICC will be releasing an additional 30 names as general secretaries and 200 to 250 secretaries in the next week. Several names recommended by Shivakumar and Siddaramaiah had been left out, leading to much heartburn, but will now be accommodated.

But later in the night, he sent a message the WhatsApp to several journalists in Belagavi. Udupi Additional SP Siddalingappa said that it was only Tuesday morning when Patil did not come out of his room that the two friends grew suspicious and informed the hotel staff. When the staff opened the door with the spare key, they found Patil lying dead on the bed. The police were informed immediately. Police sources said that Patil might have laced the fruit juice with a poison and consumed it. SP Vishnuvardhan said that as per the request of Patil's family members, his body had not been shifted out of the room till around 10.30 pm on Tuesday.

Tontadarya Mutt fair: Outfits warn of protest

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @Gadag

WHILE Tontadarya Mutt administration officials are silent on allowing non-Hindu traders from conducting business during the annual fair on April 15, some pro-Hindu outfits have warned them that protests would be intensified if non-Hindu traders are allowed.

The mutt has been a sanctuary of peace and harmony and has given the opportunity to all irrespective of their religion in fairs. Hindu organisations said Siddalinga Swami was denied entry into a mosque two decades ago when he visited all the religious places in Gadag, but he continued to spread the message of communal harmony.

Sri Rama Sene and Hindu Veerashaiva Lingayat Vedike members said they will call all religious leaders and stage a protest in front of the mutt.

Some devotees of the mutt said, "We do not know how the fair committee will select traders. We are celebrating the fair after two years without Covid fear. We request people not to create an issue as traders are running under loss and they have been looking for this fair for the last two years."

Minorities allowed to do business during Channakeshava car festival

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hassan

THE burning issue of allotting shops during the car festival of famous Channakeshava temple at Belur was resolved by allowing minorities to conduct commercial activities.

Leaders from various sections of society, progressive thinkers and members of the temple development committee met here on Tuesday and took the decision. However, minorities were asked to set up their businesses 100 yards from temple premises.

On Monday, progressive thinkers and social activists held a peace march led by Shivananda Shivayogi Rajendra Mahaswamiji.

The issue started with members of Dharmika Parishat and pro-Hindu organisations submitting a memorandum urging the temple committee and the taluk administration not to allow Muslims to set up stalls during the car festival.

They cited the Karnataka Hindu Religious Institutions and Charitable Endowments Act, 2002 to justify their demand.

Belur MLA K S Lingesh said the issue has been resolved by taking religious heads and leaders of both communities into confidence. Steps will be taken to ensure a smooth conduct of the car festival, he added.

CM holds dawn-to-dusk parleys with partymen

VINCENT D'SOUZA @ Mangaluru

WITH just a year to go for the Assembly polls in Karnataka, the ruling BJP got down to some serious business preparing the party for the big battle with the launch of district-level brainstorming sessions on Tuesday.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, who is heading one of the three panels that is touring the state to hold district-wise BJP core committee meetings, was busy with day-long meetings at a private hotel here. He held separate meetings with party leaders and workers from Kodagu, Udupi and Dakshina Kannada and reviewed the progress of party organisation.

Though the coastal districts are the stronghold of BJP, Bommai said they will do everything to ensure that party emerges more stronger in the coming days by winning more seats in the region. Workers have given suggestions on how to make the party stronger, he told the media after the meeting. He said besides discussions on party organisation, the team is taking stock of the political and social situations in the region, extending the party base by giving benefits to fishermen, focusing on bringing more industries, developing tourism, and implementing other programmes.

On whether the BJP will face the 2023 polls on the basis of Hindutva or on development, he said it will be on the basis of achievements of his government. Bommai said his government has made it very clear that communal provocation by any organisation will be strictly dealt with. "Provocation is happening from both sides," he said.

Meanwhile, Congress workers staged a protest in front of a private hotel in Mangaluru where Bommai and other ministers were holding the meeting.

Bengaluru Urban chief of AAP Mohan Dasari has filed a complaint against RDPR Minister KS Eshwarappa at the High Grounds police station demanding the police register an abetment to suicide case against him in the wake of Belagavi-based contractor Santosh Patil's death.

T'gana govt to purchase paddy

Loss from excessive broken rice will be ₹ 3k cr

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Hyderabad

THE State government will purchase entire Rabi paddy from farmers and purchasing centres will be opened in next two to three days time.

The State Cabinet, which met on Tuesday, took a decision after prolonged battle with the Central government on the procurement of Rabi paddy.

The government has finally decided to come to the rescue of the farmers. As the Rabi paddy will give more broken rice, the State Cabinet constituted a four-member committee headed by Chief Secretary Somesh Kumar to study on how to minimise the loss.

The loss due to the excessive broken rice in the Rabi paddy will be around Rs 3,000 core. "We are giving crores of rupees subsidies to the farmers. We have decided to bear the loss of around Rs 3,000 crore to Rs 4,000 crore," Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao told reporters after the Cabinet meeting. He alleged that the Central government, which waived off Rs 10.5 lakh crore of loans for industrialists, was unwilling to bear the loss of Rs 3,000 crore relating to 60 lakh farmers of Telangana.

"We have thoroughly exposed the Central government by organising the dharna in Delhi on Monday," Rao said. He said that 100 kg of Kharif paddy would give 67 kg of rice. But, 100 kg of Rabi paddy would give only 35 kg of rice. The loss for the remaining 30 kg would be borne by the State government, he said. Rao also blamed the Centre for asking the State governments to reduce the taxes on fuel. "The attitude of the Central government is clear that it will increase the prices and pocket money," Rao lamented.

A huge crowd of devotees from neighbouring states at Alipiri, Srinivasam waiting for tokens in Tirupati on Tuesday | MADHAV K

Tirupati: Devotee rush sparks chaos

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Tirumala

CHAOS prevailed at the ticket counters in Tirupati along with an unexpected surge of devotees for darshan of Srivaru from the states, compelling TTD to allow the devotees to go ahead to Tirumala without tokens on Tuesday. The TTD had also cancelled VIP break darshan till Sunday to clear the rush of pilgrims.

The TTD started issuing SSD tokens from Tuesday morning after suspending it for two consecutive days at the Govindaraja Swamy choultry, Srinivasam pilgrim amenities complex and Bhudevi complex at Alipiri. Devotees in large numbers were waiting at the counters, jostling for tickets, triggering a stampede-like situation. Children and women who were in the queue fainted and a couple of them were shifted to the hospital.

Police faced a tough time to bring the situation under control with the numbers swelling. Tirupati and Chittoor SPs P Parameswar Reddy and Y Rishanth Reddy respectively monitored the situation.

Before the situation went out of hand, TTD officials reportedly spoke with senior officials including Trust Board chairman YV Subba Reddy and decided to allow devotees without SSD tokens. TTD officials said by the time 14,500 tickets were issued, the crowds multiplied and officials said around 15,000 gathered for the rest 5,000 tokens.

WE ARE IN A WATER CRISIS, SAYS GOWDA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN an attempt to impress upon the people of Karnataka that the JDS is concerned about water-related issues, the regional party launched its ambitious 'Janata Jaladhare' campaign in the run-up to the 2023 assembly elections, at Ramanagara on Tuesday.

The 'Gangaratha Yatra' campaign is touted as the party's response to the Congress and BJP. Party workers will collect water from 90 rivers and tributaries from across the state and bring it to Bengaluru to perform 'Ganga Puja' until the elections.

Former Prime Minister H D Deve Gowda, who flagged off 15 'Gangaratha' buses which will take up an awareness campaign across the state, said, "It is not an election gimmick. We are in a crisis fighting for every drop of our water, and there is no question of letting farmers down. Let any party invite me for a struggle on water issues. I am ready to take part in it."

The buses are equipped with LED screens to screen short movies and documentaries showcasing the contribution of the party, especially Gowda, to irrigation in the state, and how national parties betrayed the people. Speaking at the mega rally organised at the district stadium, Gowda claimed that he had to face insults in Parliament while raising water-related issues and vowed that he would fight for the state's interest until his last breath.

"I am still alive and there is no question of stepping back from my struggle. My party workers have proved that nobody can finish off the JDS," he said.

Former Union minister C M Ibrahim, who is expected to be next JDS president, claimed that leaders from other parties are ready to join the JDS. "Kumaraswamy will certainly become the next chief minister," he predicted. Magadi MLA A Manjunath took charge as Ramanagara district JDS, while JDS state president H K Kumaraswamy was absent.

Study tracks growth of brain from foetus to adulthood

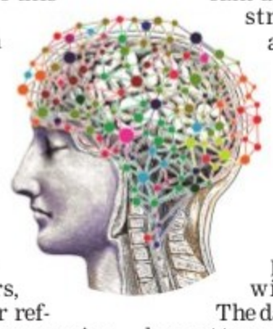
INDIAN researchers from the Consortium on Vulnerability to Externalizing Disorders and Addictions (cVEDA) led by scientists from the National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences (Nimhans), Bengaluru are part of the study.

"The study published in 'Nature' online on April 6 is the result of a research project bringing together almost 1,25,000 brain scans from over a 100 different studies, possibly the largest ever MRI datasets ever aggregated," said Professor of Psychiatry, Centre for Addiction Medicine, Nimhans, Vivek Benegal, who along with Dr Bharath Holla, asst prof of psychiatry, Department of Integrative Medicine, Nimhans were the Indian authors from the cVEDA and have contributed the Indian dataset to this global initiative.



While growth charts have been the cornerstone of paediatric healthcare and are used as biomarkers to monitor the growth and development of children in comparison to their peers, there are no similar reference charts for measuring age-related changes in the human brain.

"Assessments of brain development and aging are particularly relevant to the study of psychiatric disorders. While research in neuroscience and psychiatry has discovered significant differences in brain structure, function and psychological functioning between people with and without mental illnesses, these are still at the level of differences between groups of people with and without the illness. The data in neuroscience has not translated into individual care and does not account for wide variations seen in the real world. This study is a major step towards filling this gap," added Benegal.

The brain charts will allow the researchers to confirm, and in some cases, show for the first time developmental milestones that have previously only been hypothesised, more as prognosis, early diagnosis and treatment of mental illness.

Benegal said the cVEDA study, which provided a large number of brain scans of youngsters and young adults from India, is "one of the larger international neuro-developmental cohort studies, of over 9,000 youngsters from seven sites all over India. Set up through a Newton-Bhabha grant funded by the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) and the Medical Research Council, UK, the cVEDA follows these young people through their childhood adolescence and young adulthood to understand how their inherited genetic programming is moderated by their exposures to environmental risks to shape their brain maturation and their psychological abilities, towards wellbeing or mental illness," added the senior psychiatrist.

"Another measure of prediction and tracking that we are studying is an estimate of brain age. This is an index for quantifying individuals' brain health as deviation from a normative brain aging trajectory. Higher or lower-than-expected brain age is thought to reflect different from average rate of brain aging, and is increasingly understood to be associated with mental illness," said Holla.

7.5% QUOTA HOLDS MERIT, IMPROVE EDU QUALITY IN MEANTIME

The Madras High Court order upholding the constitutional validity of the 7.5% quota to government school students in undergraduate medical colleges is not only a win for the state but also establishes the importance of good data in advancing policy. While the Supreme Court had faulted Tamil Nadu for providing a sub-quota to Vanniyars without proper contemporaneous data, the HC order found merit in the state's defense of the 7.5% quota, grounded in the findings of the Justice Kalaiyarasan commission, arguing that government school students form a distinct socially and educationally backward class. This was established through a "wholesome" approach that included caste, wealth, parental income and occupation, location, access to coaching, etc. The court, in fact, noted that it was a positive obligation of the state to adopt a standard of proportional equality. This had been achieved in the case through the provision of a horizontal reservation to government school students.

However, the victory for the state comes with a direction, as recommended by the commission, to review the quota in five years and to improve the education provided at government schools in the intervening period "so that it may not be extended beyond five years". Indeed, the state must work on improving the quality of education in its schools by investing in revising the syllabus, filling teaching vacancies and facilitating better infrastructure but, as pointed out by the commission, the disadvantages facing the students are intersecting. Only holistic development over a possibly longer period of time will be able to erode these disadvantages in a meaningful way.

Finally, in accepting the state's argument about government school students being a special class, the court has also highlighted the impact the NEET has had. If students who face multiple disadvantages require a quota to access an education provided only through the gateway of the NEET, then clearly the argument of the test's critics holds water. The merit of a test touted as ensuring 'merit'—a nebulous concept—perhaps needs to be revisited.

NO ROOM FOR ANY DIVISIVE ELEMENTS

The disturbing communal incidents occurring in Karnataka threaten to rip the social fabric of not just the state, but of the entire country. Issues are being propelled to the fore back-to-back, each on communal lines targeting Muslims, while building up inter-religious tensions at a faster-rate with every new issue taken up by fringe groups.

Starting with the hijab row in February, opposition to consumption of halal meat was next, followed by Muslim vendors being targeted for selling their wares at temple premises. These disturbing developments threaten to snowball into a major communal challenge for civil society. It threatens to reach such a flashpoint that it may be difficult to be reversed, permanently damaging the social fabric of the country. The manner in which these issues are being taken up by ultra right-wing Hindu groups indicates a planned and systematic move to create a deep Hindu-Muslim divide on the pretext of putting the former's identity on the pedestal. But the main players in this fail to wake up to what is staring at them in their face, and choose to ignore it in the blind pursuit of marginalising other communities, mainly the Muslims. The Hindu-Muslim divide is precisely what anti-India elements within the country and its neighbourhood hope to see happen. And while at it, the ultra right-wingers remain oblivious to the fact that they are actually playing into the hands of these elements who are achieving their objective with no efforts on their part. Now, with Karnataka Assembly polls next year and the general elections two years away, these groups in the background of a relatively silent BJP are building a threatening narrative.

However, the citizens need to remember that we live in a world that has shrunk to a global village, thanks to communication and technological advances. The need of the hour is not division but unification aimed at progress on the economic, technological, education and health fronts. Countries prefer trade, commerce and research collaboration with thriving economies. There is no place for divisive elements if these aims are to be achieved. It's time to make a choice: to be progressive, or retrogressive?

India has the power, economic and otherwise, to set matters right, at least in the IOR neighbourhood, but is stymied by political realities and diplomatic niceties

NEW DELHI CAN HELP, BUT CAN'T RESTORE COLOMBO'S STABILITY

From the moment long queues for food and fuel appeared on the streets, especially in urban Sri Lanka, the pitiable cry of the population for one meal, one cylinder of LPG, one strip of medicine or one litre of petrol or diesel, all have taken an all out political colour. Egged on by the scenes from the Sri Lankan streets, as they get to see, the international media, including those in neighbouring India, have focussed excessively on the 'Go Home Gota' kind of demands for the ruling Rajapaksas to exit early and with whatever grace that they could still retain. Or, that is the message they all have been propagating, knowingly or otherwise, pushing the economic crisis almost into oblivion.

The protests, whether for essential goods or the exit of the Rajapaksas, have drowned the real sorrow that the Emerald Isle has become. Today, the daily schedule of protests and specific venues, both inside capital Colombo and outside, are publicised through social media and individual groups, including school students, doctors, lawyers and even the Catholic church. They are taking turns, indicating a certain organisation that was not visible in the early days.

The weekend saw what became 'Occupy Galle Face Green', the main beachfront in the capital Colombo, where people from all walks of life gathered, to protest outside the president's secretariat. The nation is still in dire need of necessities that the rich, poor and the middle class all want alike. Overnight, the nation has been plunged into an egalitarian society of the kind no socialist had dreamt of, and not certainly in a way that anyone wished for.

Legacy issue: For the presently unfolding Lankan crisis, it is now too late in the day, more so for those outside the country, to fix responsibility for the nation's economic mess and forex shortage. The pandemic-driven lockdown that hit the nation's forex-earners like tourism, tea, textile exports and also inward remittances can take only a part of the blame—and they were all more than visible when the width and depth of the Covid crisis became known in the first few months.

Sri Lanka's economic problems are more basic and structural; it is a legacy issue, which was passed on from one elected government to the next, after adding their own share of problems. It began with the much-touted market-driven economic reforms of the western kind killing what still remains an agrarian economy, with the informal dairy industry taking the biggest hit early on. That was when the government allowed the import of milk powder and other dairy products for the elite 'Colombo Seven' tea and dining tables, a fashion that has since caught on with the urban middle class, which has also taken to bread and sandwiches for breakfast.

To this, the Rajapaksas, in power nearly for 13 of the past 17-plus years, added their own set of problems when war-victor President Mahinda R (2005–15) invited Chinese investments in port, power and expressway projects. Initially, there was record GDP growth, but as was predictable, it was a 'jobless growth' because the Chinese brought in all the men and material. The Rajapaksas' adversarial successors in office, the ever-quarrelling Maithri-Ranil duo (2015–19), while blaming it all on the Rajapaksas, did little to reverse this particular trend.

To this, President Gotabaya, elected in 2019, added his own senseless subsidies ahead of the parliamentary polls in 2020. His Sri Lanka Podujana Peramuna combine would have won the elections anyway. However, in the name of the continuing Covid-induced fiscal crisis, he offered huge tax and duty cuts.

> India is powerful as a self-sustaining regional leader and is helpful when needed. But in having to restore political stability of whatever kind and under whichever leadership the Sri Lankan people want, New Delhi is powerless, and hence helpless. That is a reality that Indians have to be aware of and also alive to Helpless, powerless: Sri Lanka today needs a lot of fuel, food and pharma supplies, say, at least for the next two or three years, until the local situation stabilises. There is also greater-urgency for boosting forex reserves, and debt restructuring. All of it, especially the last one, only a government in Colombo can initiate, but it cannot wait, either.

With great and inexplicable reluctance attributable to ideology, the Rajapaksas have finally agreed to revive the predecessor's idea of knocking at the doors of the IMF, which alone can cushion the badly-needed forex reserves. The recent changes in the character of foreign investments mean that India's public and private sector can boost local production of cost-effective forms of renewable energy, which can also create jobs and generate family incomes for the domestic population. Against this, the government, for once, has approached China for credit facilities without linking them to jobless infrastructure projects that had proved to be white elephants in the past.

India can supply food and fuel, yes, in abundance, if it came to that. On food, India has adequate stocks. On fuel, India has taken a huge risk in the midst of the Russia-Ukraine war, just as it did with Covid supplies without providing first for meeting domestic needs, as part of its 'Neighbourhood First' policy and the larger concept of 'Vasudeva kutumbakam', meaning, 'the world is one big family'. Yet, it is only so much India can do.

Before the economic crisis took a political colour, the opposition Samagi Jana Balawegaya party, had questioned Indian project fundings, at times attributing motives openly to Prime Minister Narendra Modi as far as the Adani investments in port and renewable energy projects were concerned. But then, whatever the dynamics and accusations, India in particular cannot afford an unstable Sri Lanka, particularly at a time when there are signs of restlessness in common neighbour Maldives and visible disturbances in Pakistan.

In theoretical terms, India has the power, economic and otherwise, to set matters right, at least in the IOR neighbourhood, but is stymied by political realities and diplomatic niceties. It is particularly so at a time when Sri Lanka is seen as having moved equidistant between China and India from a visible pro-Beijing tilt.

India is powerful as a self-sustaining regional leader and is helpful when needed. But in having to restore political stability of whatever kind and under whichever leadership the Sri Lankan people want, New Delhi is powerless, and hence helpless. That is a reality that Indians have to be aware of and also alive to.

ARCHITECTURAL CONSERVATION – AN INDIAN PERSPECTIVE

MADHUSUDHANAN KALAICHELVAN

Architect and conservationist interested in Indian heritage and culture

Temples of south India have been a true repository of religious, art and cultural glory. Conceptualised and developed over hundreds of years, a big chunk of the history of ancient Tamil culture is best studied from the temple corridors. Protecting the shrines from collapsing and ensuring that the suggested method of conservation does not create more mess are two major parts of temple conservation. However, words like protection, restoration and conservation of ancient structures are all viewed as foreign in nature, and manuals and methodologies suggested by western scholars are referred to. Aspects of indigenous protection, though available in plenty, are still awaiting their approval by modern conservation specialists.

Jeernodhara Dasakam, a work comprising of ten verses and a detailed prose commentary authored by Nigamagnana, a great Saiva Siddantha acharya of 16th century CE, details out the nuances of conservation of Siva temples with strict-adherence to agamic traditions. Nigamagnana is believed to have been a resident of Tiruvannamalai town when this work was authored. He invokes the blessings of Ganesha installed in the gopuram constructed by the Sambhuvaraiyar kings. As a prelude, he refers to the Agamas, a compendium of supreme knowledge and an ancient system of traditional spiritual know-how passed on over generations. He goes on to describe the importance of religious towns and suggests devotees to spend two-thirds of their income on charity. The importance of conserving ancient temples is emphasised by enlisting it as one of the five noble acts of devotion towards Siva.

In the initial verses, the author enlists the bad effects that dilapidated and unattended temples can have on the city or settlement. Renovation activity is classified into three categories covering three different areas—the temple structure, the Sivalinga in the sanctum and other images of Siva installed and worshipped. Structural renovation is again classified into six types—repairing the floor and walls of sanctum sanctorum (like levelling the stone slabs, etc.), major structural renovations that would require a makeshift shrine being built, conservation of corridors, repair works for cloistered halls or mandapas, preservation of sub shrines in the temple complex and issues relating to Vaastu.

A detailed analysis on finalising the material palette for conservation speaks about the wide range of subjects the priests had mastered. Introducing a new material to an existing structure is generally prohibited in modern-day practice. The author from 16th century looks upon it as an unhealthy practice and insists that its best avoided. A new material shall not gel with the existing structure and would cause severe damage to the structural stability. So Nigamagnana prescribes the use of the same material and also advices to carry on repair works wherever necessary. In cases like when the plastering on walls are worn out or the painting has faded, it is enough to repair those respective parts alone.

> Protection, restoration and conservation of ancient structures are all viewed as foreign. Aspects of indigenous protection, though available in plenty, are still awaiting their approval by modern conservation specialists. ... It is now for us to consider indigenous works and start consulting them for our needs. After all, local issues need local solutions

In situations like dilapidation of the complete structure, the manual suggests that the deities are carefully shifted to a makeshift shelter where the daily rituals alone are conducted. The temple is completely reconstructed again with the same material without altering the sizes and proportions of the spaces. But interestingly, in case of a complete reconstruction, the author gives us the leverage of changing the material to a more superior one than the previous structure. That is, in case the initial temple built with bricks got dilapidated, it can be replaced by a better and more durable material, stone masonry for example. This should have been the rule that helped several kings of south India, especially around he t10th century, when several ancient temples, sanctified by the visits of saint poets like Nayanmars and Alwars were demolished and rebuilt in stone. Under such circumstances, the dimensions of the structures have also changed and new spaces and shrines should have been added.

Conservation activities are suggested to be completed within 12 years from the time of starting. In case of untoward incidences like fire accidents, an architect and priest—both well versed in the agamic texts—should carefully inspect and assess the site. If the sanctum sanctorum is damaged, the shrine becomes unfit for worshipping and hence immediately the divinity in the deity is to be transferred through suggested rituals to a representative icon. It can be a poorna kumbha, a sword, a painting on a piece of cloth or on a wall, holy sandals of the deity, a mandala, etc., in which the sanctity of the main deity is transferred and installed in a shrine until such times the damaged structures are conserved and brought back to life.

Ancillary spaces like ponds, wells and tanks also have prescribed methods of conservation. Apart from frequent services being done, the quality of water needs to be monitored and flood drains are to be checked and desilted. Repairing damaged steps to temple tanks promised high merits to the donor. Restoration and conservation of kitchen spaces, halls and gopurams are all covered extensively in the Agamas. Translation of several of these traditional works has also been published. It is now for us to consider these as indigenous works of traditional knowledge and start consulting them for our needs. After all, local issues need local solutions.

Unfortunate accident

It's sad that two tourists had lost their lives and several others were injured in the Jharkhand ropeway tragedy. But if not for the rescue efforts made by the disaster response force, IAF, ITBP and the state police, the casualties would have been higher. The accident, however, should not discourage people from visiting the place because an inquiry has been ordered into the mishap and assurances have been given that those responsible for the lapse would be brought to the book.

Strong statement from PM

This is with reference to Direct talks the only way to end Ukraine war: PM (April 12). There is an irrational allegation that India is not taking an assertive step in ending the Russia-Ukraine conflict. The fact, however, is that the PM has been unequivocal in telling Putin to end the stalemate.

Following in Nehru's steps

Though our present Prime Minister Narendra Modi is always critical of Jawaharlal Nehru, in a few things, he is following the latter's footsteps, especially the non-aligned foreign policy. Nehru was well known as the leader of the Non Aligned Movement and third world developing countries. The non-aligned foreign policy of India initiated by Nehru and followed by Modi is being appreciated by the entire world.

Hindi not the link language

It is ironic that the ruling BJP government has envisaged the National Educational Policy with an aim of promoting the mother tongues of all states while the home minister talks about Hindi as the link language. His statements were antithetical and appalling. India is a country known for its unity in diversity. Any such sparking remarks may destroy the social fabric of our nation.

Need healthy competition

This is with reference to When one city is pitted against another (April 12). Competition per se is not bad. In fact, it leads to quality improvement. Similarly, competition between cities is also not bad, provided they improve the ease of doing business. Competition should not be confined to grabbing the current business, it should be innovative for future opportunities.

SilverLine blues

In the article SilverLine will be a bitter project for Kerala (April 11), it was clearly pointed out that K-Rail will damage the state's ecology. Communist parties are known for their staunch opposition whenever lands of the common people are acquired by the governing regimes. One hopes that people are not made to repent later.

India says import minimal as US talks rights

Jaishankar doesn't react to Blinken rights violation remark, says import of oil from Russia much less than Europe

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

(L-R) Rajnath Singh, S Jaishankar, US Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Defense Secretary Lloyd Austin after the 2+2 meeting in Washington DC | PTI

THE issue of human rights violations in India came up during the 2+2 ministerial meeting between India and the US in Washington DC.

"We regularly engage with our Indian partners on these shared values, and to that end, we are monitoring some recent concerning developments in India, including a rise in human rights abuses by some government, police, and prison officials," US Secretary of State Antony J Blinken said.

India's representatives in the meeting — External Affairs Minister S Jaishaknar and Defence Minister Rajnath Singh — did not react to Blinken's statement. This point was not mentioned in a statement issued by the two sides. US Secretary of Defence Lloyd J Austin was the other participant in the meeting on Monday night.

Import of oil and gas from Russia came up for discussion and India stated that its import is not as significant as it is made out to be. Jaishankar said the country imports much less than several European nations put together. "If you are looking at energy purchases from Russia, I would suggest that your attention should be focussed on Europe. We do buy some energy which is necessary for our energy security. But I suspect, looking at the figures, probably our total purchase for a month would be less than what Europe does in an afternoon. You might want to think about that," he said.

There were discussions on the Russia-Ukraine conflict and India's stand on Russia. "A good part of my meeting with Secretary Blinken was spent on the conflict in Ukraine that has many ramifications. Even countries far away are worrying about energy security, food security, commodities prices and logistics disruption," said Jaishankar.

The US acknowledged that India and Russia have traditional ties with each other and suggested it is a matter of time before India and the US are on the same page on most issues.

Both countries called for concerted action against terrorists groups. The ministers called on Pakistan to take immediate, sustained and irreversible action to ensure that no territory under its control is used for terrorist attacks. India will host the next round of the meeting.

THANKING MODI, PAK PM MENTIONS J&K

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

NEW Pakistan Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif on Tuesday thanked his Indian counterpart Narendra Modi for felicitating him and said his country desires "peaceful and cooperative" ties with India. Sharif, however, emphasised that peaceful settlement of outstanding disputes including Jammu and Kashmir is indispensable.

"Pakistan desires peaceful & cooperative ties with India. Peaceful settlement of outstanding disputes including Jammu & Kashmir is indispensable. Pakistan's sacrifices in fighting terrorism are well-known. Let's secure peace and focus on socio-economic development of our people," Sharif tweeted while replying to Modi's congratulatory message.

Modi on Monday congratulated Sharif on his election as the PM of Pakistan and said India desires peace and stability in a region free of terror so that "we can focus on our development challenges and ensure the well-being and prosperity of our people."

In his inaugural speech on Monday, Sharif had raised the issue of abrogation of Article 370 in Kashmir and alleged that the people in the Valley were bleeding and Pakistan will provide them with "diplomatic and moral support" besides raising the matter at every international fora.

Sharif, who replaced Imran Khan after a high voltage political tussle, said he wanted good relations with India, but it cannot be achieved without the resolution of the Kashmir issue. Ties between India and Pakistan deteriorated after India announced withdrawing the special powers of Jammu and Kashmir and bifurcation of the state into two union territories in August 2019.

NEW SCHEME

Green light for two full-time courses at the same time: UGC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE University Grants Commission (UGC) on Tuesday announced that students will now be able to pursue two full-time academic programmes simultaneously, which will help expand their knowledge base.

Students can choose a diploma programme alongside an undergraduate degree, two master's programmes, or two bachelor's programmes. They can do it at the same university or from different universities. Earlier, regulations did not allow two full-time programmes at the same time. The new guideline will be uploaded on the UGC website on Wednesday.

The guidelines will apply to all the programmes across the country and universities. However, it will not be mandatory.

In a virtual meeting, UGC chairman M Jagadesh Kumar said under the National Education Policy, this move aims to offer flexibility and personalisation of higher education and allow multidisciplinary education across various domains.

He added that if a student is eligible to pursue a post-graduate degree and wants to enroll in a bachelor's degree in a different subjct, he or she will be able to pursue those simultaneously. But class timing must not clash.

Kumar clarified that the guidelines apply to lecture-based courses, including undergraduate, post-graduate and diploma programmes. MPhil and PhD programmes do not come under this scheme.

The UGC had been planning such a move for a long time, but received the go-ahead for it in 2020. The commission had set up a committee in 2012 to examine the idea, and consultations were held, but ultimately the idea was junked.

EMOTIONAL REUNION

Mother's belief comes true, man back after 12 years in Karachi prison

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

CHHAVI Musahar was just 23 when he suddenly disappeared from his home in Bihar's Buxar district in 2009. After searching for him a couple of years, the relatives came to a conclusion that the youth was dead, and conducted his funeral rites. Even his wife, with whom Musahar had entered wedlock in 2007, married again. Only one person in the village kept alive a flicker of hope: His mother, Birti Devi.

Back to the present, almost 13 years after his disappearance, Musahar stepped into his home again on Tuesday, much to the disbelief of everyone in Buxar's Khilafatpur village. With tears rolling down on her check, Birti gave a traditional welcome to her lost son at the gate of their house. "Today is the happiest day in my life. I have got my son back. I am thankful to the Almighty for showering his blessings on the family," the 55-year-old mother said.

Birti said she used to perform 'chhath puja' for her son's well-being every year even after rest of the family abandoned any hope of Musahar being alive. "Bhagwan ne meri fariyad sun lee (God has listened to my prayers)," she said. "We had searched him everywhere — from relatives' houses to railway stations, bus stands and even hospitals — for two years, but there was no trace of him," said elder brother Ravi.

Brought back from Wagah

A team of police personnel from Bihar's Buxar travelled all the way to Wagah border in Punjab where Chhavi Mushar was handed over by the Pakistani Rangers on Sunday

The question on everyone's lips was what transpired in the life of Musahar between 2009 and 2022. Even the government officials who brought him back from the India-Pakistan border in Punjab are still clueless. It is suspected that the youth accidently crossed the border somewhere in Punjab and landed in the hands of Pakistani authorities.

Buxar District Magistrate Aman Samir said they received information from the Ministry of External Affairs in December regarding Musahar languishing in a jail in Karachi.

After silence, health ministry holds meeting on XE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

EVEN though the government is yet to officially acknowledge the presence of Omicron's subvariant XE in India, Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya on Tuesday held a high-level meeting and directed officials to strengthen the monitoring of new variants.

The minister chaired a review meeting with experts and officials on the new variant, which is 10 per cent more transmissible. He directed officials to constantly review the availability of essential drugs and medicines for Covid-19 treatment as five states — Haryana, Delhi, Maharashtra, Mizoram and Kerala — have witnessed a slight rise in cases.

The health ministry had been quiet on XE all this while. It rejected claims that one case was found in Maharashtra and did not say anything when another was reported from Gujarat.

In a tweet, the minister said he had a meeting with experts on the 'new XE variant' and the emergence of new variants.

The meeting was attended by Dr VK Paul, Member (Health), NITI Ayog, Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan, Dr Randip Guleria (Director, AIIMS), Dr Balrama Bhargava (Director General, ICMR), Dr N K Arora (chief of National Technical Advisory Group on Immunisation in India) and senior officials of the health ministry.

The XE variant is a combination of BA.1 and BA.2 strains of Omicron. It has generated concern worldwide and also in India, where all Covid-related restrictions have been lifted. Some states have even made masks non-mandatory.

The World Health Organisation has not termed XE a variant of concern yet. However, the global body has said it requires further confirmation.

Total vaccination above 186 crore

New Delhi: Over 16,709 precaution doses of Covid-19 vaccines were administered to beneficiaries in the 18-59 years age group on Tuesday, taking the total of such doses given in this age group to 44,439, according to the Union health ministry. India's cumulative vaccination coverage has crossed 186.05 crore (1,86,05,24,339), with 13,28,485 doses administered till 7 pm, the ministry said. It added that the daily vaccination tally is expected to go up with the compilation of the final reports by late night. India began administering the precaution doses of the vaccines to all aged above 18 years at private vaccination centres from Sunday. The response of the first day was lukewarm.

Mandaviya emphasised that the vaccination drive must be carried out at full pace. He also highlighted that the total fatality rate was much lower in India compared to many developed countries. India reported 380 deaths per million compared to the global average of 788 deaths, he said and added that India was also able to limit the infection's spread, with 31,383 cases reported per million against 63,458 globally.

Salem affidavit by Apr 18: SC to Home Secy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday granted a last opportunity to the Home Secretary to file his affidavit on whether India will honour the commitment made by its then Deputy Prime Minister LK Advani to Portugal in 2002 on limiting gangster Abu Salem's jail term to 25 years. He has file by April 18.

The CBI has said an Indian court is not bound by the assurance given by the then Deputy PM. The court said it is not satisfied by its affidavit that the assurance given by India to Portugal on the maximum sentence during the extradition of Salem, a convict in the 1993 Mumbai blasts case, is not binding on Indian courts. Salem's says his imprisonment can't exceed beyond 25 years.

CBI given go-ahead to prosecute Aakar Patel

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Centre has given go-ahead to the CBI to prosecute Amnesty International India and its former chief Aakar Patel for alleged violations of the Foreign Contribution Regulation Act (FCRA).

The CBI had sought the sanction of the government to prosecute the international human rights organisation because of mandatory clause of Section 40 of the FCRA. Section 40 bars any court to take cognisance of offence under the FCRA without the previous sanction of the Central Government or any officer authorised by that Government in this behalf.

The charge sheet was filed on December 31, 2021, by the agency in the Special CBI Court against Patel and Amnesty International India under Section 11 read with Sections 35 and 39 of the Act after a two-year probe into alleged violations, they said. The court will take cognisance of charges on April 18.

Following the charge sheet, the agency had issued a Look Out Circular against Patel on the basis of which he was stopped from leaving Bengaluru airport for the US where he was scheduled to deliver academic lectures.

A court had allowed withdrawal of the LOC but the order was overturned last Friday by a Special Judge who had asked Patel to not leave the country without permission.

RELIEF FOR CONG LEADER

Conviction of Hardik Patel stayed by Supreme Court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday stayed the conviction of Gujarat Congress president Hardik Patel in an alleged violence and rioting case. The court was hearing a plea filed by him against a judgment of the Gujarat High Court, which refused to stay the conviction. Patel was unable to contest the 2019 Lok Sabha elections due to this.

"We are of the view that the high court could have stayed the conviction. The conviction is, hereby, stayed until the appeals are decided accordingly," a bench of Justices S.Abdul Nazeer and Vikram Nath said.

Appearing for Patel, senior advocate Maninder Singh said the conviction is a violation of his rights and he has already lost a chance to contest elections. He added that his rights under Article 19(1)(a) of the Constitution should be protected. Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Gujarat government, said the matter should be heard on the parameters of conviction under criminal law and not on his right to contest elections.

Patel had sought a direction to suspend the conviction order passed on July 25, 2018, by a sessions court in Mahesana in Visnagar. The court had sentenced him to two years.

VARANASI HICCUP, BUT BJP SWEEPS COUNCIL POLLS, S.P. WIPED OUT

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE BJP on Tuesday swept the UP Legislative Council biennial polls winning 33 of the 36 seats up for grabs. However, it failed to save pride in Varanasi, the parliamentary constituency of Prime Minister Narendra Modi. Last month, the party had retained power by registered a resounding victory in the UP Assembly elections.

In Varanasi, Annapurna Singh, an Independent candidate and wife of local strongman Brijesh Singh, won the council seat convincingly by getting 4,230 votes, pushing the BJP to third position. In 2016, Brijesh had won the same seat as an Independent while the BJP had not fielded a candidate against him. Brijesh has been winning the seat for the last 24 years. But BJP getting third position with SP at number two in the prestigious seat will worry the party leadership.

The BJP also lost Azamgarh and Pratapgarh seats to Independents. In Azamgarh, Vikrant Singh, son of expelled BJP MLC Yashwant Singh won the election. Yashwant was chucked out for fielding his son against the official party candidate. In Pratapgarh, the ruling party failed to break the charisma of local don Raja Bhaiyya and lost the seat to his cousin Akshay Pratap Singh of Jansatta Dal Loktantrik, the political outfit of Raja Bhaiyya.

The SP scored a duck despite being in a straight fight against the BJP. The BSP and the Congress had chosen not to field candidates. For SP chief Akhilesh Yadav, being trounced in the Etawah-Farrukhabad bastion would be a big blow.

Seats that went to polls: 36

BJP 33 | SP 0 | Independents 3

● Apna Dal (S) 1 ● NISHAD 1
● Jansatta Dal Loktantrik 1

HC blow for factory linked to Maharashtra BJP MP

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

THE Bombay High Court has passed a restraining order against a prominent Vikhe Patil family-owned sugar factory in Ahmednagar, asking the promoters not to enter the premises of a local power plant, and not to carry out any work/activity therein.

The Vikhe Patil family, to which the local MP Sujay Vikhe Patil belongs, controls the Padamshri Dr Vitthalrao Vikhe Patil Sahakari Sakhar Karkhana in Ahmednagar district. Pravara Renewable Energy Ltd (PREL) had set up the power plant at the sugar factory premises of Sahakari Sakhar Karkhana. Late last year, the Karkhana allegedly ousted PREL, occupied the power plant and started running it.

PREL filed a commercial arbitration petition before the Bombay High Court. The court said that the Karkhana's forceful operation of the power plant was illegal and the parties would lose faith in the system if their contractual rights were taken away using political power. "Irreparable damage will be caused to the plant if the Karkhana continues to operate the plant," it said.

The court said the "the petitioner's case is of coercive actions having taken place to oust the petitioner from the co-generation plant by the respondent after the present petition was filed on 12 October 2021.

The respondent using its dominating position as a powerful sugar factory."

The court further said that prima facie, it is apparent that there is a systematic commercial modus operandi on the part of the Karkhana to take over the co-gen plant. Firstly, by permitting PREL to set up the co-gen plant for which the PREL incurred substantial expenditure of ₹274 crore by borrowing funds fully to the knowledge of the Karkhana, and thereafter by not supplying the agreed amount of bagasse and biogas, the basic raw-material for generation of power and steam, thereby depriving PREL of a normal functioning of the plant to recoup its investments and earn profits.

The court also made adverse remarks about the dismantling of the biogas pipeline and using it for the captive generation facility, which was a clear indication that there was no intention to supply biogas thereby crippling PREL.

Bulldozing action by MP govt kicks up political storm

Rahul Gandhi accuses BJP govt of spreading fear; MP home minister says action will continue, denies targeting of any particular section

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

THE bulldozing of "illegal" properties of alleged rioters in the communal violence-hit Khargone and Sendhwa towns of Madhya Pradesh is turning into a major political storm.

Tweeting on the issue, former Congress president Rahul Gandhi said "instead of bulldozing major public problems like inflation and unemployment, the BJP's bulldozer is ridden by hate and fear".

AIMIM chief Asaduddin Owasi alleged the MP government was "terrorising" a particular community. "Properties of a particular community are being bulldozed as part of a plan to terrorise them and make them feel that they are second class citizens in their own country. Which IPC section provides for bulldozing the property of people accused in rioting cases, even before they are held guilty by the court? Are the BJP government in MP and its home minister acting as the court and jury?" said the Hyderabad MP.

Former MP chief minister Digvijaya Singh also raised the issue of the minority community being "targeted by the bulldozer" in Khargone and Sendhwa. "Does the country's Constitution have any provision for the present bulldozer culture? But even then, if you've to run the bulldozer, then that action shouldn't discriminate on the basis of religion," he tweeted.

Shielding the criticism, MP Home minister Narottam Mishra said, "There were no tweets when Singh's and Asaduddin Owaisi's shanti doots (messengers of peace) were pelting stones on Ram Navami processions. Tweets are being done only when action is being taken against stone-throwers. The bulldozing action will continue," he said.

Defending the bulldozing action, he said: "There is no question of differentiating between the guilty when the rioters are clearly seen throwing stones in video footage. The real issue is who began the violence and not about those who responded in self-defence. The state government is not bothered about the accusations of it targeting anyone."

DIGVIJAYA LANDS IN TROUBLE OVER TWEET

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

THE Madhya Pradesh Police on Tuesday registered an FIR against former chief minister and Rajya Sabha member Digvijaya Singh for "promoting enmity between two communities" after he tweeted a picture of a mosque outside the state while commenting on the communal violence in Khargone district.

Singh had posted a series of tweets on the Khargone communal violence on Tuesday morning. In one of the tweets, Singh used a picture in which a youth could be seen hoisting a saffron flag on a mosque. "Is it appropriate to hoist flag while wielding lathi and sword? Did the Khargone administration allow carrying out a procession with arms?"

However, the picture tweeted by Singh later turned out to be from outside the state, after which the politician deleted it. The tweet, however, had by then triggered a political controversy in the state.

Man in Delhi lynched on cow slaughter suspicion

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A caretaker of a farmhouse in Delhi's Dwarka area was lynched by a group of alleged gau rakshaks on the suspicion of slaughtering cows and selling beef. Six others were injured in the attack.

Police said a team was rushed to Chhawla locality on Monday night after information was received that a group of men were slaughtering cows and selling beef in the area. But before the team could reach the spot, a group of 10-15 unidentified men had already reached there and attacked those present at the farmhouse, a senior police officer said. Rajaram, 40, the caretaker of the farmhouse, and the others thrashed by the vigilantes were taken to a hospital, but Rajaram succumbed to injuries.

Police said two FIRs had been registered on the basis of the details given by the injured as well as locals. "Our teams have collected a few samples from the spot and sent it for examination. Two separate cases have been registered in the matter and five men were arrested from the spot," the officer said.

The arrests were made in connection with alleged cow slaughter while no one has been arrested so far in the murder and assault case.

According to one of the FIRs, an injured associate of Rajaram said the deceased used to bring cows from his native place for slaughtering and selling the meat. However, Rajaram's wife claimed her husband sold cow milk to make ends meet and that locals had spread rumours about him. "My husband was innocent. He had been suffering from liver ailment and under treatment. He had never indulged in cow slaughter or anything illegal," she said.

POWER CRISIS

Delhi CM's meeting with Punjab officials receives flak

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

A political storm has erupted in Punjab over Delhi CM and AAP national convener Arvind Kejriwal's meeting with state's bureaucrats, reportedly in the absence of Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann. Both Kejriwal and Mann have come under fire, with the opposition alleging that the Punjab government was being 'remote-controlled' from Delhi.

Kejriwal met Punjab's power corporation officials and power secretary in Delhi on Monday to reportedly discuss implementation of AAP's poll promise of providing free electricity up to 300 units, even as the state has been witnessing long power cuts because of coal shortage.

SAD chief Sukhbir Singh Badal termed the meeting "unconstitutional and unacceptable". Senior leader Daljit Singh Cheema said the manner in which the Delhi CM was riding roughshod over constitutional norms had made Punjabis insecure whether their interests would be protected.

State Congress president Amrinder Singh Raja Warring tweeted, "Will Punjab be puppeteered by Delhi people?... Will senior officials of Punjab have to mark their attendance in the 'Darbar' of Kejriwal?"

AAP's Punjab spokesperson Malwinder Kang defended the move saying, "If he (Kejriwal) held an informal meeting for the benefit of the people of Punjab, it should be welcomed."

Gujarat: Tension prevails as rioters attack houses with petrol bombs

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

PEACE continues to elude Himmat Nagar in Gujarat following the communal riots which began during the Ram Navami processions on Sunday. Despite prohibitory orders being in place, Vanjarawas locality of Himmat Nagar reported a fresh spurt of violence on Monday night after rioters belonging to one community attacked the houses of other community. Besides Himmat Nagar, two more districts — Khambhat and Dwarka — in the state had reported riots on Sunday.

Meanwhile, Chief Minister Bhupendra Patel convened a special meeting at his official residence in Gandhinagar on Tuesday night to take stock of the situation. The meeting would be attended by Home minister Harsh Sanghvi, chief secretary, home secretary and the DGP.

Vanjarawas residents alleged that rioters ransacked and looted several houses on Monday night, despite the police ordering the people to not venture out. Earlier, the police had appealed to the members of both communities to maintain peace and even organised 'peace committee' meetings. It is reported that despite all the measures, the rioters threw stones and petrol bombs at the houses of a particular community, forcing a dozen families to flee.

Sabarkantha police superintendent Vishal Vaghela confirmed the incident. "We received information regarding stone-throwing on Monday night and immediately reached the spot. We had to fire tear gas to bring the situation under control and disperse the mob. We have detained 10 people," the police officer said.

An elderly couple who fled the locality said a mob of around 500 men surrounded their colony and started hurling stones and petrol bombs at their house. "We survived because the roof of our house was strong. We are scared to go back there and moving to a safer place," they said, not wanting to reveal their names.

MAMATA COMMENT FLAYED

HC orders CBI probe into gang rape and murder of minor girl in Bengal

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

A day after West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee made a comment giving a "love angle" to the alleged gang rape and murder of a 14-year-old girl by the son of a local Trinamool Congress leader in Nadia's Hanskhali, a division bench of Calcutta High Court, chaired by Chief Justice Prakash Srivastava, on Tuesday ordered a CBI probe into the incident.

The family members of the minor girl alleged in their police complaint, which was filed five days after the incident, that they cremated her body at a local crematorium without opting for a post-mortem and obtaining a death certificate under pressure from the TMC leader.

"In the complaint, the family alleged the girl was dropped at their house by two women from the TMC leader's house where she had gone to attend a birthday party. As the girl was bleeding profusely, the family took her to local quack but she died in the next morning," said an officer at Hanskhali police station quoting the complaint lodged by the family.

The police have arrested Sohail Goala, the TMC leader's son, who allegedly raped her, and one of his accomplices in connection with the incident.

> Criminal investigation in the shameful rape #Hanskhali is tainted when people in authority & constitutional position indicate judgmental stance
>
> Governor Jagdeep Dhankhar

The police also interrogated the quack and the employees of the crematorium.

Referring to the incident, Mamata on Monday said, "Was there a love affair between the girl and the youth? Was she pregnant? The girl died on April 5 and the complaint was lodged on April 10. Why was the complaint not lodged on the same day?"

The chief minister's remark immediately drew flak. "Mamata Banerjee's crass comment on the rape and murder of 14 year old girl in Hanskhali is not just abhorrent but also steeped in gross illegality. Sexual intercourse with a minor is rape. It is a crime. Her murder is a crime. Bengal CM shamed the victim and defended the accused," tweeted BJP's Amit Malviya.

Reacting to Mamata's comment, Governor Jagdeep Dhankhar tweeted, "Criminal investigation in the shameful rape #Hanskhali is tainted when people in authority & constitutional position indicate judgmental stance. This is against a fair & independent probe as the police are forced to toe such line."

Representatives of the state child protection society visited Hanskhali on Tuesday and met the family members of the victim.

Centre seeks report on JNU violence

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

TAKING note of the scuffle between two student groups in the Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU) over non-vegetarian food being served in the hostel mess on the Ram Navami day, the Union education ministry has sought a report.

According to officials, the ministry has sought a "formal report' as per standard procedures from the JNU administration.

On Sunday, the Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad (ABVP) and Left-wing students clashed at the university's Kaveri Hostel over serving non-vegetarian food on Ram Navami in the hostel mess.

On Monday, the two student groups lodged police complaints against each other, with police saying 20 students were injured in the violence.

The university registrar, in a statement, said the violence occurred after some students objected to 'havan' organised on the occasion of Ram Navami.

Bodo does a favour to BJP, expects a reward

They say there are no permanent friends or enemies in politics. The BJP has mended fences with the Bodoland People's Front (BPF), a year after virtually severing ties with the party that is headed by former rebel leader-turned-politician Hagrama Mohilary. Ahead of last year's Assembly elections, the BJP had ditched the BPF upon finding a new friend in United People's Party Liberal (UPPL). Recently, elections were held to two Rajya Sabha seats in the state and the BJP and its ally UPPL had won one seat each. The votes of the BPF MLAs were crucial for the BJP-led coalition. Now, the BPF is hoping that it will be rewarded with ministerial berths for doing the favour to the BJP.

Kaziranga not yet encroachment-free

Freeing Kaziranga National Park from encroachment was one of the key poll promises of the BJP in 2016 when it was trying to make inroads into Assam and the Northeast. But after grabbing power, the party was found to be selective in its drive against encroachment. It had evicted many poor families but did not touch the properties of the rich and influential people. In 2019, the Supreme Court had banned all new constructions on the animal corridors. It had also ordered the removal of existing structures. Despite the court's order, the authorities did not remove the structures. The BJP-led government, however, managed to protect the rhinos from poachers as promised.

Man buys scooty in coins, dream gets fulfilled

Small is beautiful. Small could be big too. The executives at a two-wheeler showroom on the outskirts of Guwahati were surprised the other day when Upen Roy, a city resident, visited them with a bundle of coins to fulfil a long-cherished dream. It was in 2014 that Roy had started saving in coins to buy a two-wheeler. Recently, he discovered he amassed `1.5 lakh in coins. He spent a little over `92,000 to buy a scooty. The bank that the showroom contacted refused to accept the payment in coins. But the manager rescued the man from the situation by getting the coins exchanged with currency notes by approaching his friends, employees and acquaintances.

Ropeway operator under scanner over accident

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

TERMING it a "rarest of the rare" event, the operators of the Trikut Hills ropeway in Jharkhand claimed the accident, which claimed three lives and kept 45 people stranded midair for several hours in Deoghar, happened due to the dislocation of the rope from the pole wheel.

The contract for operating the ropeway at Trikut Hills in Deoghar had been awarded to Damodar Ropeways and Infra Limited by the state tourism department. "The accident took place after the rope got dislocated from the pole wheel. Such incidents don't happen usually, and hence, a thorough investigation will be conducted by the technical team which already has reached here," said general manager (commercial) of the firm. He also refuted the allegations that the ropeway was not being maintained properly.

Locals claimed there had been no substantial maintenance in the last three years. "Contract of Damodar Ropeways expired in 2019 and still it was being operated illegally," said Godda MP Nishikant Dubey. He also blamed the district administration and the tourism department.

Need an early solution to Naga issue: CM Rio

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

A high-level Nagaland government delegation, led by Chief Minister Neiphiu Rio, is currently camping in New Delhi to impress upon the Centre to resolve the protracted "Naga political issue" early.

The delegation, which comprises former chief minister TR Zeliang, Deputy Chief Minister Y Patton and ministers, would meet Union Home Minister Amit Shah, among others.

Rio told this newspaper on Tuesday that the "political issue" would be on the agenda, apart from other issues.

"People's demand is a solution to the issue. That's the reason why we are playing the role of a facilitator. The issue has remained unresolved for a long time. It is high time that it gets resolved. That is our wish," the four-time chief minister said.

Asked if the government can facilitate the peace process without being a party to it, he said, "We are an elected government and it is the people's issue. Therefore, we have to do all that we can to facilitate it. Let's hope for the best."

There are several extremist groups fighting for the Naga cause and the Nagas at large want a settlement that is inclusive.

The Centre holds parallel peace talks with insurgent outfit National Socialist Council of Nagalim (NSCN-IM) and several other rebel groups, which came together a few years ago under the banner of Naga National Political Groups (NNPGs).

The NSCN-IM's peace talks with the Centre started in 1997 after both sides had signed a ceasefire agreement.

PUTIN VOWS RUSSIA WILL PRESS UKRAINE INVASION TILL GOALS MET

Dismisses claims Moscow's army was struggling against Ukrainian resistance on the ground

MOSCOW

PRESIDENT Vladimir Putin said Tuesday Moscow will proceed according to plan with military operations in Ukraine as the prow-Western country braces for a major Russian offensive in the east.

"Our task is to fulfil and achieve all the goals set, minimising losses. And we will act rhythmically, calmly, according to the plan originally proposed by the General Staff," Putin said during a televised press conference.

Speaking to reporters following a meeting with Belarusian President Alexander Lukashenko at a cosmodrome in Russia's Far East, Putin dismissed claims Moscow's army was struggling against the Ukrainian resistance and was forced to withdraw from around major cities, including the capital Kyiv.

"Our actions in certain regions of Ukraine were just related to containing (enemy) forces, destroying military infrastructure, creating conditions for a more active operation in Donbas," Putin said referring to a region in eastern Ukraine, parts of which are controlled by pro-Russia separatists.

Six found shot dead in basement in Kyiv

Kyiv: Ukrainian prosecutors said six people had been found shot dead in the basement of a building outside Kyiv. The killings were carried out by Russian forces who took control of the area at the beginning of the invasion, the prosecutor general said, publishing an image of what it said was the scene of the discovery with several bodies in a dark, concrete hole.

> Our actions in certain regions of Ukraine were just related to containing (enemy) forces, destroying military infrastructure, creating conditions for a more active operation in Donbas
>
> Vladimir Putin, Russian president

Putin also said the operation was not going to speed up, in order to minimise casualties.

"I often hear the question: is it possible to do it a bit faster? It is. This depends on the intensity of hostilities, but the intensity of hostilities is, unfortunately related to losses," he said. Russia has repeatedly denied targeting civilians, accusing Ukraine of using its population as a "human shield".

Asked about reports of the discovery of hundreds of dead bodies of civilians in the town of Bucha outside Kyiv after the withdrawal of Moscow's troops, Putin dismissed them as "fake".

He compared the accusations to those concerning the use of chemical weapons by the regime of Syrian President Bashar al-Assad. "It's the same kind of fake in Bucha," Putin said. He also said Ukraine's "inconsistency" during peace talks with Russia was slowing down the process.

"Yesterday evening, the Ukrainian side changed something again. Such inconsistency on fundamental points does create certain difficulties in reaching final agreements," Putin said. He added that until an agreement is reached, "the military operation will continue until the full completion of (its) tasks". AFP

Anger palpable over high inflation, scarcity of essential goods

@Colombo

ON April 11, the unpopular regime put forward their most popular family member, Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa, to make a special address. There were strong expectations that he would announce his resignation and call for a multi-party approach to overcome the current crisis. Instead, there was no admission of mistakes, remorse, an apology or an explanation.

He used full five minutes to caution the protestors against political elements responsible for previous bloodletting (a reference to the Marxist Janatha Vimukthi Peramuna) and to desist from insulting the armed forces, a reminder of the SLPP's populist rhetoric that had helped them secure power since 2005, except for the 2015 interlude.

Thushal Wasantha (26), a protestor camping at the Galle Face Green, Colombo's iconic seafront in front of the Presidential Secretariat, now dubbed the GotaGoHomeVillage, said the PM's script was old and no longer valid.

"They (Rajapaksas) have repeatedly won elections playing the nationalist card and repeatedly sold the LTTE's defeat to win elections. What they have done since 2005 is to divide us along ethno-religious lines and create a family company of sorts to run the country. People have been blinded by their rhetoric but no more."

In Colombo, hundreds of people camping out and chanting one slogan "Gota Go Home" and the protests are gathering momentum, with religious leaders, sports personalities and artistes lending support. While anti-Rajapaksa elements call it 'Sri Lanka's reawakening', the silence of the Rajapaksas does not denote absence of hurt. On Tuesday, a counter protest was organised by pro-Rajapaksa groups led by prominent campaigners and a wave of social media posts discrediting the protests.

A Buddhist monk writes on a placard as he takes part in an anti-government protest at the entrance of the president's office in Colombo on Tuesday | AFP

As people queue up to buy their fuel and turn away from retailers with disappointment due to essentials being in short supply, the average citizen appears angry about the high inflation, scarcity of essentials and the disruption to daily life. "They can feed their children as they have ill-gotten wealth. But we are finding it difficult to have a single meal a day," said Sumana Weerapperuma (43), a farmer from Horowpathana. The public anger is so sharp that it fails to take into account the multiple contributors to the island's economic collapse.

"This country was into heavy borrowing for years. Covid, increasing debt, high interest borrowing from China, reduction in remittances, all play a role in the downturn. But the Rajapaksas cannot ignore their complicity in what we are going through. They ruined the national economy, appointed political stooges to manage the economy and overlooked technocrats and since their ascension, we have only seen grand corruption and nepotism. This is the result of Rajapaksa misrule and corruption," said Pragathi Samaraweera (24), a university student reading for an economics degree. "Can you explain the opulence? Where was this wealth until the tsunami funds were misappropriated?" she added. At the Galle Face Green, protesters are calling for the resignation of President Gotabaya Rajapaksa in unison, but they also call for more.

They are calling for a united Sri Lanka where communities can co-exist, a complete change in the system, multiple audits on personal wealth and corruption probes against Rajapaksa family members and key Rajapaksa associates.

"The Rajapaksas took a leaf out of colonisers' book. They too practiced the divide and rule theory and rode to victory on a populist wave. They put Sinhalese against Muslims and Tamils, sewed mistrust among communities, taught us to suspect and fear each other and made this country unsafe for minorities, both ethnic and religious. Now we are asking all of them to go, to hand over the country back to us, the people. But the first demand is the exit of President Gotabaya Rajapaksa," said Anwar Munsoor (31), a young father of two, who stands at the sea front protest venue, his face wreathed in a smile.

"We are asking for the country we want, we can build, not what their political leaders want," he said.

April 14 is a special day for Sri Lanka's Sinhalese and Hindus. It marks the dawn of a new year. On Thursday, the protest venue will turn into a grand celebration of unity in diversity. "We will herald the Sri Lankan new year, with all communities present. And we will ask our president to go home and make it auspicious," said Andre Fernando (50).

UK PM Johnson, FM Sunak fined over 'partygate' scandal

LONDON

UK Prime Minister Boris Johnson offered a "full apology" on Tuesday after being fined for breaching Covid lockdown laws in the so-called "Partygate" scandal, but looked set to defy calls for his resignation.

Embattled finance minister Rishi Sunak and Johnson's wife Carrie will also be fined, as the political storm following revelations of a swathe of lockdown-busting parties in and around Downing Street threatens to engulf Johnson once more. "Let me say immediately that I've paid the fine and I once again offer a full apology," Johnson said during televised remarks.

Johnson's office said his fine was for attending a surprise birthday gathering in his honour on the afternoon of June 19, 2020 in the Cabinet Room at Number 10.

Rishi Sunak

The prime minister said the event lasted around 10 minutes, and denied that he had lied about not knowingly breaking the law, saying: "In all frankness at that time, it did not occur to me that this might have been a breach of the rules.

"But of course the police have found otherwise and I fully respect the outcome of their investigation," he added.

The leader of the opposition Labour Party, Keir Starmer, swiftly called for the two most senior members of the government to resign. "Boris Johnson and Rishi Sunak have broken the law and repeatedly lied to the British public," Starmer tweeted.

"They must both resign. The Conservatives are totally unfit to govern. Britain deserves better."

However, Johnson said he now wanted "to get on and deliver the mandate that I have", and early signs were that his MPs were currently sticking with him.

Johnson was left fighting for his political survival earlier this year after several lawmakers from his ruling Conservative Party withdrew their support for his leadership over the affair.

An unknown number of Conservative MPs submitted letters calling for a no-confidence vote in Johnson's leadership.

If the Conservative Party's 1922 Committee receives such letters from 54 of Johnson's 360 MPs, it would spark a confidence vote. AFP

Suspect at large as Brooklyn subway shooting injures 16

BROOKLYN

A MAN in a gas mask shot 10 people on a packed New York subway train during the morning rush-hour on Tuesday, setting off a smoke bomb before opening fire on terrified passengers.

Police have launched a massive manhunt for the shooter, but said the incident in Brooklyn was not being investigated as an act of terrorism and that none of the injuries were considered life-threatening.

New York Police Department commissioner Keechant Sewell told a press conference the suspected gunman put on a gas mask just as the train was arriving at 36th Street station.

"He then opened the canister that was in his bag and then the car filled with smoke. After that he began shooting," Sewell said.

The city fire department said six other people were wounded as panicked passengers fled the smoke-filled train, which pulled up to the platform moments after the shooting.

Sewell described the suspect as a lone "male, Black, approximately five feet five inches tall with a heavy build," wearing a green construction type vest and a grey hooded sweatshirt.

Verified video footage posted on social media showed the train pulling into the 36th Street station, and smoke billowing out the doors as passengers rushed off, some apparently injured.

One of them, Yav Montano, recounted on CNN being inside the car when it began filling with smoke, and shots rang out. "In the moment, I did not think that it was a shooting because it sounded like fireworks," he said. "It just sounded like a bunch of scattered popping."

There were 40 to 50 passengers inside at the time and they began crowding towards the front, Montano said—but the door to the next car was locked.

"There were people in that other car that saw what was happening. And they tried to open the door, but they couldn't," he said.

CNN aired a brief video shot by Montano inside the car showing passengers crowded together, some wearing masks and others pressing clothing against their mouths to protect against the smoke. "There were some people whose clothes, whose pants were covered in blood," Montano said, adding that he could not tell who was injured. AFP

At least 45 dead in South Africa floods

DURBAN

AT LEAST 45 people have died in floods and mudslides after rainstorms struck the South African port city of Durban and surrounding KwaZulu-Natal province, the authorities said on Tuesday.

The country's meteorologists forecasted more "extreme" rains on the way Tuesday night accompanied by "widespread flooding".

"The latest reports indicate that over 45 people have lost their lives as a result of the heavy rains, this number could possibly increase as more reports come in," the province's Department of Cooperative Governance announced in a statement.

Days of pounding rain flooded several areas, tore houses apart and ravaged infrastructure across the southeastern city, while landslips caused train services across KwaZulu-Natal province to be suspended. AFP

Ola CEO takes break from daily ops

Says will focus on long-term strategies across Ola Electric and Ola businesses

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

OLA Founder and CEO Bhavish Aggarwal will shift his focus from day-to-day operations to building high-growth business and projects across Ola Electric and Ola businesses.

"I'll be spending more time with all engineering functions, team building, and on the product...I'll also be increasing my focus on our longer-term strategic projects including new 2W products, our car project, innovations in quick commerce, electrifying ride-hailing, our cell R&D and factory, international expansion, and building out our Pune tech centre and the Futurefoundry UK," said Aggarwal in an internal note. The Softbank-backed firm has expanded Group CFO and CFO of Ola Electric GR Arun Kumar's role to help and support Aggarwal in day-to-day operations across the group.

Kumar had joined Ola in June last year and has over two decades of experience in finance and strategy, and has worked across various industrial sectors such as Vedanta Resources, GE and Hindustan Unilever. Aggarwal took to twitter to clarify that he is not retiring and that Kumar will help him in managing Ola's operations. To note, Ola had a significant number of high profile exits last year.

"Reads like I'm retiring! Not true. Arun (GR) is a great leader & he'll help me manage Ola's ops. We will accelerate ambitious new projects like our car, cell, gigafactory etc. & deepen focus on tech & engineering. More soon Doubling down on building the future here in India, at Ola!," Aggarwal tweeted.

Aggarwal's decision to focus on the larger picture comes at a time when Ola is in a firefighting mode to meet delivery commitments of its electric scooter and assure consumers about its safety. Ola's scooter catching fire last has emerged as a big setback for the company as well as India's e-2W industry, forcing the government to launch an independent investigation.

Among other things, the IPO-bound firm has plans to raise funds to fuel its aggressive expansion plans, which include its on-going effort to build the world's largest two-wheeler plant in Tamil Nadu. Aggarwal also has plans to foray into electric car space in near future.

The company recently made an investment in StoreDot, an Israeli battery technology company known for extreme fast charging (XFC) technology. The company is also giving a push to fintech business under Ola Financial.

SRI LANKA

UNILATERALLY SUSPENDS EXTERNAL DEBT PAYMENTS

Sri Lanka's central bank said on Tuesday it had become "challenging and impossible" to repay external debt, as it tries to use its dwindling foreign exchange reserves to import essentials like fuel. The island nation's reserves have slumped more than two-thirds in the past two years, as tax cuts and the Covid-19 pandemic badly hurt its tourism-dependent economy and exposed the government's debt-fuelled spending. Street protests against shortages of fuel, power, food and medicine have gone on for more than a month. "We need to focus on essential imports and not have to worry about servicing external debt," Central Bank of Sri Lanka's governor, P. Nandalal Weerasinghe, told reporters. "It has come to a point that making debt payments are challenging and impossible." Weerasinghe said the suspension of payment would be until the country came to an agreement with creditors and with the support of a loan programme with the IMF. Sri Lanka starts formal talks with the global lender on Monday for emergency loans. The country has foreign debt payments of around $4 billion due this year, including a $1 billion international sovereign bond maturing in July. Two coupon payments are due on Monday.

KOREA

BOK TO PAUSE IN APRIL, RATES TO GO UP EVERY QUARTER

The Bank of Korea is likely to stand pat at its meeting this week as its committee awaits the appointment of a new governor, but it will embrace a steeper rate hike path ahead to tame more than decade-high inflation, a Reuters poll showed. While the U.S. Federal Reserve has now begun a tightening cycle and the European Central Bank is not expected to raise rates until later this year, South Korea's central bank has been quick to address high inflation and ballooning household debt. The BoK has raised its base rate by 75 basis points since August, taking it to 1.25%, making it the first major Asian central bank to normalize policy from pandemic-induced lows. Russia's invasion of Ukraine has exacerbated inflationary pressures. March inflation showed prices rose 4.1% from a year earlier, staying above the BoK's target of 2% for the 12th straight month and increasing the chances of another rate hike. South Korea's central bank senior deputy governor Lee Seung-heon said last week the April policy review meeting will be tricky, citing the twin challenges of dealing with higher inflationary risks and downward pressure on growth.

SINGAPORE

GDP GROWTH TO EASE IN Q1, MAS SET TO TIGHTEN

Singapore's economy likely expanded at a slower pace in the first quarter, but is expected to stay on its recovery path this year as border controls are relaxed further, giving the central bank room to tighten monetary policy to tackle inflation. Advance data shows gross domestic product (GDP) expanded 3.8% in January-March from a year ago, according to the median forecast of 15 economists in a Reuters poll, as the manufacturing sector comes off a high base and amid travel curbs to curb a Covid-19 outbreak driven by Omicron. Manufacturing remained the main growth engine, helped in part by demand for semiconductors, analysts said. The city-state's economy expanded 6.1% year-on-year in the fourth quarter of 2021. Singapore's recent easing of border controls and Covid-19 rules are expected to boost services from the second quarter, partly offsetting the negative impact of the Ukraine-Russia war, supply disruptions and rising energy prices, Maybank economists Chua Hak Bin and Lee Ju Ye said. The trade-reliant economy grew 7.6% last year, the fastest pace in a decade, recovering from a 4.1% contraction in 2020. The government had projected GDP growth of 3-5% in 2022, though this was before Russia began what it calls "a special military operation" in Ukraine on February, 24.

CBI arrests close aide of Nirav Modi in Cairo

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

A special CBI court remanded a close aide of fugitive diamantaire Nirav Modi to 14 days' police custody after he was brought back from Cairo and produced before it by the central investigative agency on Tuesday.

The accused, Subhash Parab, had worked as a deputy GM, finance, at Firestar International Pvt Ltd from April 2015 to January 2018 and fled the country shortly before the scam surfaced in 2018, the agency said.

"In order to unearth the larger conspiracy and ascertain the identity/roles of other co-accused, end use of the huge amounts of public funds diverted by Sh. Nirav Modi and others who are on the run and some of them are yet to be identified, the sustained custodial interrogation of Sh. Subhash Parab is inevitable," the CBI said in its remand application.

Parab allegedly prepared fraudulent applications for the issue of letters of undertaking (LoUs) -- guarantees -- in conspiracy with a former PNB official in favour of overseas parties who supplied rough diamonds to Nirav Modi's firms. It was later found that these parties were fronts of Modi's firms.

These LoUs were issued by former PNB banker Gokulnath Shetty without collecting any collateral from Nirav Modi or Mehul Choksi firms. The traces of the issuance were eliminated as PNB's core banking solution back then was not integrated with the global messaging system SWIFT, used by banks to communicate with each other.

The evergreening caused the scam to balloon, with Nirav Modi alone causing an estimated loss of Rs 6,498 crore to PNB, while his uncle Mehul Choksi defrauded the bank of over Rs 7000 crore.

Asset quality has been resilient in the recent past, boosted by improved underwriting and significant mobilisation in customer engagement by the recovery team. SBIN has one of the best liability franchises (CASA mix: ~46% as on 3QFY22). Moreover, low cost of deposits would continue to support margins, to a large extent. Subsidiaries – SBI MF, SBI Life Insurance, SBI Cards, and SBI Cap – have exhibited robust performances in the last few years, which could result in value unlocking. Gopinathan said, "Life Sciences and healthcare (19.2%) has been one of our most steady and fast-growing sectors."

The company employs around 5,000 people in eastern Europe.

FLEXIBLE JOBS

70% WOMEN QUIT OR MULL QUITTING IN 2022

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

A LinkedIn research shows that India's working women are quitting or considering quitting their jobs, which do not provide them flexibility, in 2022.

The LinkedIn survey on Tuesday revealed that following the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic, 8 in 10 (83%) of working women have realised they want to work more flexibly. The survey finds that 72% of working women are rejecting job roles that don't allow them to work flexibly, while 70% have already quit or considered quitting their jobs because they weren't offered the right flexible policies.

The research, which is based on 2,266 respondents in India, says working women are paying heavy penalties to work flexibly. "9 in 10 (88%) working women had to take a pay cut to work flexibly, 2 in 5 (37%) had their flexible working request denied, and 1 in 4 (27%) struggled to convince their bosses to accept their request," it says.

This, according to the research, has made women reluctant towards asking for greater flexibility because they fear exclusion.

Ruchee Anand, Senior Director, India Talent & Learning Solutions, LinkedIn notes Flexible working is the No. 1 priority today for all professionals, especially for working women.

"This is a warning sign for companies and recruiters to remove the stigma surrounding the need for flexibility and career breaks, and introduce stronger flexibility policies if they don't want to lose top talent," says Anand.

Industrial production grows at 1.7% in February

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE index for industrial production (IIP), which measures industrial activities in the country, rose 1.7% in February 2022 against 1.5% in January, as per the National Statistical Office (NSO) data.

In February 2021, the IIP had registered a decline of 3.2%.

The mild rise in industrial production in February was led by mining and electricity, both of which registered a growth of 4.5% each during the month. Manufacturing, however, continues to be a laggard with a growth of 0.8%.

In terms of use-based categories, consumer durables and consumer non- durables saw contraction of 8.2% and 5.5%, respectively, largely due to high inflation and moderating rural demand. However, the contraction in these categories was offset by a sharp 9.4% jump in infrastructure and construction goods.

The cumulative growth in April-February stood at 12.5%. It is to be noted that there was a contraction of 11.1% in the same period of last year.

Overall, in the manufacturing sector for eleven months a growth of 12.9% was recorded as against the contraction of 12.5% in the same period of previous year, as per the data.

When it comes to analyzing the ongoing economic recovery, growth in IIP continues to paint a dismal picture, says Dr. Sunil Kumar Sinha, Principal Economist, India Ratings and Research. He says successive monthly data of industrial output is making it abundantly clear that consumption demand will need policy makers attention.

Core inflation at 6.4%, up from 5.8% in February

ACCORDING to the latest data, the prices of most commodity groups touched multi-month highs — cereals and products (19 months), milk and products (16 months), vegetable (16 months), clothing (100 months), footwear (111 months), household goods and services (102 months), personal care (13 months) and food index (16 months).

Core inflation, or non-food non-fuel inflation, was at 6.4% in March compared to 5.8% in February.

Core inflation is likely to see a broad-based rise as producers pass on cost pressures across segments, says rating agency Crisil. The poor are bearing the burden of inflation the most, given that food recorded the sharpest rise, Crisil adds.

Meanwhile, rural inflation showed a higher jump of 7.7% than urban inflation (6.12%).

RBI in its recent monetary policy had said that its primary focus would be to contain inflation. The central bank has also revised the 2022-23 inflation estimates to 5.7% from its earlier forecast of 4.5%.

Telecom body COAI wants 90% cut in 5G spectrum pricing

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

TELECOM industry has expressed its disappointment at Trai's recommendations on 5G spectrum pricing. The Cellular Operator Association of India (COAI), which represents all the three telecom operators -- Reliance Jio, Vodafone Idea and Bharti Airtel -- said the Trai has only recommended 35-40% cut in spectrum prices as against their demand of 90% lower rates.

The association called these recommendations one step backwards than forward towards building a Digitally-Connected India.

"Throughout the consultation process, industry had presented extensive arguments based on global research and benchmarks, for significant reduction in spectrum prices. Industry recommended 90% lower price, and to see only about 35-40% reduction recommended in prices, therefore is deeply disappointing," said COAI in a statement.

Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) on 11 April 2022 released recommendations on Auction of 5G spectrum, in which it recommended to cut the base price of the coveted 700 MHz band by 40% and 3300-3670 MHz band by 36%.

Charu Paliwal, Research Analyst at Counterpoint Research opined that the amount of reduction is still not enough to bring some relief to debt-ridden telecom industry.

"Spectrum prices in India are very high compared to global benchmarks. On the contrary, Indian telecom operators still offer some of the cheapest mobile tariff plans in the world," he said.

"Despite the hike in late 2021. Considering financial stress of the operators, their inability to raise tariffs due to fierce competition, plus the 5G ecosystem is yet to adequately develop, keeping high base price will impact the ability of operators to fully participate in the upcoming auctions," said Paliwal.

RBI's balance-sheet registers 8.3% growth in FY22

SUNITHA NATTI

THE RBI's balance-sheet increased by ₹4.7 lakh crore in FY22, registering a growth of 8.3% over FY21.

The percentage increase appears lower than the trendline growth of 13-14% prior to the pandemic period, but FY22 data isn't strictly comparable as the central bank presented a truncated balance-sheet (adopting a April-March cycle) for nine months in FY21. Given the prevailing global conditions, anyalsts do not expect a significant increase in the central bank's assets and liabilities even this fiscal.

Based on RBI's assets and liabilities data published weekly, in absolute terms, the central bank's balance-sheet grew from ₹56.70 lakh crore as on April 1, 2021, to ₹61.40 lakh crore as on April 1, 2022. Weekly data is broadly considered accurate, though the final figures will be presented in the annual report, which will be released in May.

As a percentage of GDP, RBI's total assets stood at 26.45%, down from 29% in FY21. Analysts say the central bank' balance-sheet is undergoing a correction following an unprecedented expansion during the pandemic year FY20 when assets and liabilities grew by a record ₹12 lakh crore. In FY21, the accounts presented for nine months showed a modest expansion of ₹3.7 lakh crore, but thanks to expenditure contraction and significant reduction towards provision for contingency fund, RBI managed to transfer a staggering ₹99,122 crore surplus to the central government last year.

"During the pandemic period, RBI has mopped up bonds and increased its forex reserves. Though with the Covid restrictions easing and to fight against volatility in rupee during the recent Russia-Ukraine crisis, we have seen reserves dwindling. Now that the US Federal Reserve has embarked on the rate hike path, we may see the balance sheet to stop growing and settle a little lower in the current fiscal," Amit Kumar Gupta, Founder & CIO, FinTrekk Capital told Express.

Like last year, this year too RBI continued its aggressive mopping up of forex currency assets. As on April 1, they stood at ₹41.1 lakh crore, or 67% of RBI's total assets, down from about 69% a year ago. But this was expected given that RBI has begun withdrawing the accommodation.

FINALLY, CHENNAI ARE SUPER KINGS

After fifties from Uthappa & Dube, spinners power CSK to their first win of the season

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

EVER since Ravindra Jadeja took over the reins of Chennai Super Kings after MS Dhoni quit captaincy, it has been a story of struggle. Four losses out of four — one does not normally associate such a winless streak with the men in yellow. On the contrary, Royal Challengers Bangalore were on a three-match winning streak under new skipper Faf Du Plessis as they faced CSK at DY Patil Stadium in Mumbai on Tuesday.

The problem for Chennai has been their failure in all departments. Hence, there was a desperate need for Jadeja's men to bring their A-game. Even the confidence level between the two teams were in contrast early during the contest. If Bangalore looked aggressive, Chennai were quite circumspect. It is the mindset, which stemmed from their recent results. It was quite evident that they were in need of something magical to lift the team. And who better to provide that than two former RCB players Robin Uthappa and Shivam Dube. They were involved in a 165-run partnership, as the right-hander hit a 50-ball 88 while Dube smashed 95 from just 46 balls, powering their team to a mammoth 216/4, which is quite extraordinary considering they were 35/1 during the powerplay.

Dube's innings did not come as a big surprise with the tall batter having impressed earlier in the competition. The left-hander, who walked in at number four, felt the need to do something different, and he did so attacking the bowlers, an element which was missing from the earlier batters, especially in the first six overs.

One could sense a shift in momentum, and Dube was central to it. With the southpaw having a good reputation of hitting sixes against the spinners in domestic cricket, his eyes lit up during the middle-overs when Glenn Maxwell and Shahbaz Ahmed were rolling their arm over. He used his long levers to up the run rate, dealing in sixes. Even the in-form Wanindu Hasaranga was not spared with the leg-spinner being hit for a six and four in his first over.

The confidence rubbed off on Uthappa. He changed gears after getting his eye in. He hit Maxwell for three sixes in 13th over. At this point, with the duo on full swing, it was clear that Bangalore missed Harshal Patel, who left the IPL bubble due to a family bereavement. The pacer was an integral element for Bangalore in containing batters in the middle overs and at the death while he took regular wickets.

Du Plessis also drew a helpless look with balls flying into the crowd with utter consistency as Uthappa brought up his fifty in 33 balls. Few balls later, Dube completed his half century too. Though Uthappa perished, Dube had his ton in sight with the batter on 80 with six balls left. He finished unbeaten on 95.

In reply, Bangalore fought hard in the middle-overs after being reduced to 50 for four early on, but fell short in the end by 23 runs.

Brief scores: CSK 216/4 in 20 ovs (Dube 95 n.o, Uthappa 88) beat RCB 193/9 in 20 ovs (Shahbaz 41, Karthik 34, Theekshana 4/33, Jadeja 3/39).

Shooting, wrestling fail to make first cut for 2026 Commonwealth Games

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

BOTH shooting and wrestling do not feature in the original list of 16 sports that will feature at the 2026 Commonwealth Games in Melbourne. Apart from mandatory events like athletics and swimming, the country that's hosting the Games has the option of deciding the list of sports. From an Indian perspective, this is big because they have traditionally won big in both these disciplines. In 2018, India won 11 gold (28 medals) combined in these events. The corresponding numbers in 2014 and 2010 were nine (30) and 24 (49) respectively.

"There will be a phased approach in creating the sports programme for Victoria 2026," a press release from the Commonwealth Games Federation read. "An initial 16 sports have been put forward for the Games, with further sports to be added later this year." Cricket will feature for a second-edition running (women's T20 is a part of the programme at Birmingham later this year) but archery — another sport that Indians are good at the Commonwealth level — isn't part of the programme.

THE 16 DISCIPLINES

Aquatics, Athletics, Badminton, Boxing, Beach volleyball, Cricket T20, Cycling, Gymnastics, Hockey, Lawn Bowls, Netball, Rugby Sevens, Squash, Table tennis, Triathlon, Weightlifting.

Significantly, the 2026 edition will be the first regional Commonwealth with competition held at multiple venues spread across the state of Victoria. "In what will be a first ever predominantly regional Commonwealth Games, Victoria 2026 will be staged in March 2026 across multiple cities and regional hubs including Melbourne, Geelong, Bendigo, Ballarat and Gippsland," the release stated. "The Opening Ceremony will take place at the iconic Melbourne Cricket Ground. The approach will showcase the best of what the State has to offer and ensure a uniquely Victorian experience for everyone."

HOCKEY JUNIOR WORLD CUP

India women lose in shootout to finish 4th

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

THE junior women's hockey team was three minutes away from winning a bronze medal but eventually lost the shoot-out to finish fourth at the World Cup in Potchefstroom, South Africa on Tuesday.

Forward Mumtaz Khan, who caught the eye with her off the ball movement as well as finishing skills equalised once before putting India in front but England, after missing two penalty corners in the final quarter, levelled via Claudia Swann in the 57th minute.

06 No of field goals scored by Mumtaz, the 2nd highest

SHOOTOUT

INDIA	ENGLAND
Salima Tete ✗	Maddie Axford ✓
Sangita Kumari ✗	Claudia Swann ✓
Sharmila Devi ✗	Katie Curtis ✓

In the subsequent shootout, India, hoping to win a bronze for only the second time in this competition (after the batch of 2013), failed to sound the board even once. England, for their part, had no problems in scoring past Bichu Kharibam to win 3-0. India will rue the missed conversions as they had the better overall numbers in all aspects (penalty corners, circle penetrations and shots on goal).

Bichu, who had an outstanding tournament, made an uncharacteristic error to allow England to take the lead in the 17th minute before Mumtaz's smart stick work three minutes later restored parity. A minute into the fourth quarter, she found the roof of the net from close range but a last-ditch England attack took the match to penalties where they made India pay.

Final: Netherlands 3-1 Germany

Saina to skip selection trials for CWG, Asiad

NEW DELHI: Saina Nehwal's chances of defending her title at the Commonwealth Games looks bleak as she has decided to skip the selection trials for the Commonwealth Games in Birmingham and the Hangzhou Asian Games. CK Nayudu Trophy: K'taka all out for 204

BENGALURU: Karnataka were dismissed for a paltry 204 runs in their CK Nayudu Trophy match against Mumbai in Motera on Tuesday. Karnataka's Shubhang Hegde scored an unbeaten 45 while Sharath BR and Vyshak V scored 45 and 44 runs in the first innings. SZ Mulani scalped five for Mumbai, who were 88/2 at stumps on Day 1 with Divyaansh not out on 45.

Unavailability of tickets may spoil Bajrang's plan

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

GIVEN his long absence from international competitions — Tokyo Olympics was his last event outside India — ace Indian wrestler Bajrang Punia (65kg) wants to reach Ulaanbaatar, Mongolia a few days in advance for the Asian Championships starting April 19. Ravi Dahiya (57kg) and Deepak Punia (86kg) also plan to do the same.

However, unavailability of tickets mean their plan for acclimatisation prior to the event might not succeed. The Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) though is making efforts to make sure the trio board the flight along with the Greco-Roman wrestlers to reach the venue on April 17.

The unavailability of tickets has made the federation to include only five Greco-Roman wrestlers along with three referees and a coach in the first batch scheduled to leave on April 16. The remaining five GR wrestlers along with women grapplers will fly out of the country two days later. The event will begin with competitions in GR followed by women and freestyle wrestling bouts.

"The freestyle team including the trio is scheduled to leave on April 20. But Bajrang wants to reach the venue early. We are still working on other options and if we manage to find a solution, the trio can leave on April 16," a WFI source told this daily. Ravi won the gold while Bajrang and Deepak finished with a silver each in the last edition.

Reds, City in pole position

Both Manchester City and Liverpool have one foot in the semifinal of the Champions League but need to ensure against complacency in their respective second leg outings on Wednesday. A look at the two games...

ATLETICO VS MANCHESTER CITY

FIRST-LEG: MAN CITY 1-0 ATLETICO

The La Liga giants made it a tough first leg but City still found the combination to unlock their defence. For City, Kevin de Bruyne, who scored in the first leg, is back to his best. Atletico, who had no shots and 29 per cent possession in Manchester, will have to show more ambition and that could leave them exposed.

LIVERPOOL VS BENFICA

FIRST-LEG: BENFICA 1-3 LIVERPOOL

The Reds are in front of this tie they might well try to freshen up their squad a bit before the FA Cup semifinal. At Anfield, Liverpool could well win with a similar margin. It's hard to see how Benfica could resurrect this tie. One point of interest is that Darwin Nunez has continued his goal-scoring exploits for the Portuguese side.

Bengaluru runners are lacing up for the much-anticipated Boston Marathon on April 18, ahead of which they run CE through their training and preparations

COURSE OF ACTION

Dilip Kumar

SANATH PRASAD

WHEN the clock strikes 3:30am, B J Vikram, a resident of Hanumanthnagar drives down to Kanteerava Stadium and runs for two hours around the 10-km marathon circuit. He has been waiting to participate in one of the most anticipated world majors, the Boston Marathon since 2017. And it appears that he has finally made his breakthrough this year.

The 126th edition of the Boston Marathon edition will be held on April 18 with runners from across the world hitting the course. With the pandemic playing spoilsport and travel bans reducing scope of participation, runners from Bengaluru are set to attempt their personal best at the annual marathon this time.

Vikram, who is a national-level skater, has qualified for four marathons in Delhi, Mumbai and Bengaluru since 2019. Although the pandemic dashed all his hopes, he went on to participate in virtual marathons when travel restrictions were imposed. "I have qualified four times in major marathons but could not make it to Boston due to Covid-19. So this year is a dream come true. Irrespective of the weather conditions, I am going to give it my best. I run 85-90 km a week for two hours early in the morning. For the past few weeks I have been consuming beetroot juice which ensures oxygen supply and gives endurance," says the 34-year-old.

For someone who claims to be a 'working runner', the Boston Marathon could be an uphill task. But that is not stopping Dilip Kumar (39), an entrepreneur, from participating. "I am anxious about the event because I'm not a pro. Moreover, the climatic conditions in Boston are harsh and unpredictable. The inclines might be a difficult pursuit in Boston, but I am practising to my fullest potential with the limited resources I have," says Kumar.

Sayed Atif, who was supposed to participate in the 2020 Boston Marathon which did not happen thanks to the pandemic. After a two-year wait, the excitement in his voice is palpable. "For an amateur runner, the Boston Marathon is equal to the Olympics. Qualifying and participating in the event in itself is very rewarding. To acclimatise myself to the Boston terrain, I am running at the foothills of Nandi Hills which is preparing me for the incline," says Atif.

Although some qualified for the Boston Marathon, they refrained from participating due to the uncertain health crisis. Anubhav Karmakar, who was supposed to participate in his second event, refrained from doing so, due to the insufficient training due to the pandemic. Similarly, Shruthi Jain, a yoga teacher, who qualified for the Berlin Marathon last year, clocking three hours and 27 minutes, says, "When the registration for the Boston Marathon started, we were just entering the Omicron stage. The uncertainty about the health crisis was at its peak during the registration process and that is when I decided to pull back," says Jain, who hopes to participate in the future editions.

Steering ahead

FICCI FLO B'luru chapter's new chairperson Jayshree Menon speaks about her plan of action as she takes charge for the year

SANATH PRASAD

IT was in 2015 that Jayshree Menon joined the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FICCI) Federation of Ladies Organisation (FLO) Bengaluru Chapter, to network with business leaders and gain access to a series of workshops. In the course of seven years, she worked up the ladder, now taking charge as the chairperson of FLO Bengaluru.

> We have seen a lot of women entrepreneurs sprout during the pandemic. Now that they are earning, I want them to learn financial management and make financial decisions
> Jayshree Menon, chairperson, FICCI FLO Bengaluru

Menon hopes that the road ahead as chairperson is filled with 'gratification' and 'optimism'. With Covid-19 receding, Menon is now tasked with multiple activities and workshops to keep the FLO members engaged. "Things are opening up after two years and it is really exciting for me to set the ball rolling. The optimism remains that we will have more speakers and industry experts from the business and finance field and have physical interactions with members after subdued virtual engagements," says Menon, adding that the road ahead also comes with a lot of challenges. "The challenge is to get sponsors for our events because people are now careful about spending after the pandemic. Since travel spaces have also opened, we really have to see if the members can participate actively in workshops," says Menon, who is also planning to collaborate with special schools and help differently-abled students in sports, fitness and skill set.

Despite the challenges, Menon has got down to business after assuming responsibility on April 1. Menon's primary vision is to accelerate financial literacy workshops among women. "We have seen a lot of women entrepreneurs sprout during the pandemic. Now that they are earning, they really need to have a plan on what to do with the money. I want them to learn financial management and see how well they can make financial decisions," says Menon. Besides, this year will also see different verticals like professional services, marketing, travel and gourmet, art and culture, that aims to help empower women and become more self-reliant. "I know women are capable a lot more than they think they are. These workshops are to enhance their ideas and instill the belief to achieve their goals," says Menon, who also runs a multimedia solutions company called Print Brew.

It's a hectic year ahead but Menon looks forward to what's in store. "The journey, so far with FLO Bengaluru, has been filled with a lot of takeaways which is something that I hope will continue through the year," says Menon.

Though I'm just one of the many musicians involved, it's thrilling to be part of a Grammy award-winning work
Shashank Akella, musician

This guitarist, who was part of two-time Grammy award-winning musician Ricky Kej's album, shares his experience of working on an album that is being recognised world-wide

Winning notes

Stewart Copeland and Ricky Kej

ANILA KURIAN

IT was a good win for Bengaluru-based Ricky Kej at the Grammy Awards this year but behind the success were several others too. One such is Shashank Akella, a guitarist who was part of Divine Tides, the album which Kej won the award for.

Akella, who has been a musician for the last 18 years, has worked with Kej over the last two years as the head of media. The pandemic hit just when he returned to India after completing his Masters in Music Business from the University of Leads. With work leads being slim, he was called to be part of Kej's team. Since then, he has been actively involved in working on music videos, editing, post production, graphics and album artworks, among others.

Working on the album Divine Tides was a different experience altogether. Akella was part of the songs Our Home and A Prayer from the album. "Kej told me that he's planning to work on the album with legendary musician Stewart Copeland. He had a game plan in mind. There was a lot of back and forth since a lot of work was done online. Though I'm just one of the many musicians involved, it's thrilling to be part of a Grammy award-winning work," he shares.

With Kej's many travel plans and the pandemic, most of their interactions have been virtual. "I get most of the raw footage of the videos to put together for the final one. I was given the creative freedom to finalise it," Akella says, adding that he's also worked on songs I am Change and Pastrol India, both of which have seen good feedback on social media.

But when it came to the Grammy nomination, Kej himself wasn't sure if he'd win it at all given the stiff competition, Akella recalls. "When we found out that the album was nominated, we were obviously thrilled. But the final dates of the award ceremony were pushed to April from January because of the pandemic. When the day finally came, it was such a dream come true, especially to know that I had a small part to play in it. Honestly, I'm still processing that feeling."

While he works with Kej during the day, he plays with his band, Space Is All We Have, by dusk. "I know I have a long way to go but I hope to have a Grammy-winning work in the future too," he says.

Actor Robert Downey Jr. advocates climate-smart food in upcoming book

Best known for playing Iron-Man and Sherlock Holmes on the big screen, Robert Downey Jr. has now turned to advocating climate smart food choices. The Hollywood star has teamed up with bestselling author Thomas Kostigen to write Cool Food: Erasing Your Carbon Footprint One Bite at a Time. Blackstone Publishing has acquired the rights to the book, which, its authors say, will provide a smart, accessible and game-changing roadmap to making climate-solving food choices. The deal marks the first major non-fiction book from Downey Jr., who leaned into nutrition since early in his Marvel run as Iron-Man to prepare for the rigours of that role. In a report, it said, "While there has been a preoccupation in Hollywood with cutting down carbon footprints, doing it through a diet seems an innovative wrinkle." Blackstone hasn't set a publication date. —IANS

'Societies have always had unsaid preference for lies'

TURNING PAGES

ACROSS the country in Dalit localities today, statues of Dr Ambedkar — holding the Constitution of India in one hand and showing the way forward to the nation with the other — are a common sight. The Dalits not only own Ambedkar but also the Constitution, as they consider it as 'Ambedkar's Constitution'. This volume examines how far the constitutional promises made to the Dalits have been fulfilled and how far the Dalits have progressed on the way shown by Ambedkar.

The Dalits are among the world's largest group of people with a long history of discrimination against them. In their quest for equality, as promised by the Constitution, they have been waging relentless battles against the caste system. The essays in this book are about those battles.

This book is set in contemporary times, when the political mobilization of the Dalits is following a trajectory that the founders of the Constitution would never have expected. Though the Congress party, in partnership with Ambedkar, had formulated the Constitution, and brought out policies, programmes and legislations aimed at their social, economic and political empowerment, the Dalits are drifting away from the Congress in a few states. Some critics argue that it is the Congress that is drifting away from the Dalits, with Manuwadi parties making inroads there. This volume tries to objectively examine the truth and falsities that are influencing the political mobilization of the Dalits.

This book has been influenced by my own career as a former civil servant and current Congress leader, and my life as a Dalit. In over three decades as a civil servant, I have had the opportunity to listen to the small and big voices of the Dalits, partake in their pain and celebrate their victories with them. As a Congress leader, I could closely fathom the realities of politics where the Dalits have a stake. It was with this in mind that I invited thinkers who have the courage of conviction to speak the truth to contribute essays for this book. The truth some of them speak may be unsettling to a politician, whether Congress or non-Congress. It is an attempt to engage with a variety of intellectuals on Dalit lives and politics, and to acknowledge the Dalit truth. Though I strongly believe that the Congress remains the best hope for Dalit emancipation, none of the essays in this book has been 'censored'—including those critical of my party.

The book's inquiry into Dalit lives takes you through to the Dalit truth. There are many things which are routinely said about truth: that it is naked and it hurts; that it cannot be hidden for too long; that it prevails. But one thing which is not often said is that it always bears the burden of the past with unflinching grace. It might reveal something ugly, dull or even obvious, but it always holds its head high elegantly since it has nothing to hide. Truth remains plain and solid in its transparency.

Yet societies have always had an unsaid preference for lies. Unlike truth, which can be uncomfortable, lies offer a tempting simplicity. They stand seductively in the corner, promising false liberation from the burden of untangling the complex web of the past. But the salve of lies is temporary. Along with being divisive, lies negate history so that the dominant classes, which are mostly responsible for fabricating them, continue their hegemony.

HOW TO SUCCESSFULLY GET A RAISE

HRIDAY RANJAN
Urban Bourbon
(Writer, comedian)

THE season of hikes and bonuses is here. No matter how nonchalant and unattached you act, you're going to be making mental calculations. The truth is, you have to ask for a raise yourself. Nobody is going to do it for you!

Disclaimer: I have never asked for a raise. However, I HAVE asked for pocket money a lot in my life. The basic principles are the same. The resources are limited, and the amount you get is based on the impression you have created on the decision-makers over the last few days. Using the same principles I used to obtain pocket money in childhood, here are a few tips that will help you get a higher raise this year.

Second disclaimer: Some of these suggestions are truly 'out of the cabin'. They truly blur the line between pushing the envelope and getting the pink slip. Some unimaginative people might look at the suggestions and mutter 'toxic workplace' under their breath. Ignore the negativity — always remember, having more money is more important than being politically correct.

Start by buying gifts for your boss. Not generic gifts — but topical gifts for tropical climate. The summer is going to be brutal this year, so get your boss a tender coconut subscription. Or an appointment for AC repair. A mini-USB fan to prepare for summer load shedding. Extra refills for mosquito repellents — ask your boss what brand they use — the refills don't fit all types!

Offer to babysit your boss kids. Give them a cup that says 'World's Greatest Boss'. Laugh at your boss's jokes. No matter how unfunny they are — laugh as boisterously as rakshasas laughed in Doordarshan's mythological serials. Since work-from-home has come to an end, the old rules will apply once again. Come early to the office and be the last one to log out.

If these 20th century tips don't work, you need to get innovative. Indoctrinate your colleagues into the heady ideology of Communism. Inspire them to forego capitalist perks like hikes and bonuses. Or better still, initiate them into a spiritual journey. Convince them that money comes and goes; morality comes and grows.

Always remember that your boss is also a human being. In the words of Mahatma Gandhi 'Humanity is an ocean. If a few drops are dirty, the ocean doesn't become dirty'. Gandhiji obviously made this comment before the oceans truly got filthy. But nevertheless, it is important to understand the quote in its context. Your boss is a human being, and you must appeal to their innate humanity (difficult as that might seem to find).

Share everything your boss shares on social media. Add them to 'Close Friends' on Instagram. Create memes about your colleagues and DM them to your boss. Send an invite to your boss to join 'Hike' messenger. Send a wink along with the invite. Donate blood, offer to offer platelets. Write a poem for your boss, read it out to them drunk, after the office party. Hug your boss, go down on your knees, promise everlasting loyalty, and paste their pictures at your desk.

The truth is, in spite of all my efforts — I rarely got any pocket money from my parents. And therein lies a lesson — one can only put one's best foot forward. And that might be the case with you too. I hope you win a handsome (used in the gender-neutral sense) hike this year. If you don't, well, you can always begin planning for next March!

Ramesh Aravind: It is not just possible to make America America again

Actor Ramesh Aravind, director Nagathihalli Chandrashekar, actors Akshay Anand, Hema Panchamukhi, and music director Rajesh Krishnan celebrated 25 years of America America

CE FEATURES

NAGATHIHALLI Chandrashekar's directorial America America — released on April 11, 1997 — completed its silver jubilee. The actors and technicians of the superhit romantic drama came together to celebrate 25 years of success at an event held in Bengaluru. The movie starred Ramesh Aravind, Hema Panchamukhi, and Akshay Anand in lead roles. During the event, the team recalled their association and the memorable experience of working on the film. Director Nagathihalli said that the idea of making America America came about in 1990, and the film was extensively shot in the USA.

Ramesh Aravind, on the other hand, thanked the director and said that it remains one of the signature films of his career. "It is not possible to make America America again. It is a signature film in my career. Surya, the character I played is universal and carries a lot of emotions. I didn't know much about shooting abroad.

Team America America celebrate 25 years of success

Nagathichalli Chandrashekhar narrated the role and I liked it," he said.

Producer Nandakumar also mentioned that, unlike in the past, it is very difficult to shoot in America today as there are a lot of restrictions. Hema Panchamukhi, who played the female lead said, "The makers wanted to finalise a heroine residing in the USA for this film, however, the commercial terms didn't work out and that's how she came into the picture. Akshay Anand, who felt honoured to be part of the gathering, said that some films can never be repeated, and that is the case with America America. He also mentioned that it was Ramesh Aravind, who picked him for the role.

The romantic drama revolves around three characters — Surya, Shashank, and Bhoomi — and was the first Kannada film to be released in the USA. It has cinematography by Sunny Joseph. This film gave birth to the likes of musician Mano Murthy and singer Rajesh Krishnan. Songs like Nooru Janmaku and Yaava Mohana Murali are evergreen hits. The film also featured C R Simha Shivaram, Dattanna, and Vaishali Kasaravalli in pivotal roles.

ANEK RELEASE DATE OUT

CE FEATURES

Ayushmann Khurrana

ANEK, starring Ayushmann Khurrana, will now be released on May 27 as opposed to the initial date of May 13. The date was revised to avoid a clash with Yash Raj Films' Jayeshbhai Jordaar in which Ranveer Singh is playing the lead role.

The decision was taken after a discussion between Aditya Chopra, YRF's CEO Akshaye Widhani, and Anek producers Bhushan Kumar and Anubhav Sinha. Ayushmann's film's trailer will now be attached to Jayeshbhai Jordaar. This is the first time a non-YRF film's trailer is attached to a YRF film. "Producers Bhushan Kumar and Anubhav Sinha were very gracious and have shifted the release of Anek to May 27. With this move, both Jayeshbhai Jordaar and Anek will receive their fair share of the audiences' attention. As a token of gesture, the trailer of Anek will now be attached to Jayeshbhai Jordaar," said YRF's CEO Akshaye Widhani.

Bhushan Kumar said that one should be "open to accommodate the best interests of the films," and added, "I believe that the film industry is one big family and we should always be open to accommodate the best interests of the films we are churning out. Both Jayeshbhai Jordaar and Anek are very promising films."

"A lot of hard work and planning goes into the making of a film. We were happy to shift the release of Anek by a few days so that audiences can now enjoy both films in a spaced-out manner," said director-producer Anubhav Sinha. Anek is jointly produced by Bhushan's T-Series and Anubhav's Benaras Mediaworks.

Kangana Ranaut

Dhaakad trailer release date out, Kangana to sport seven looks

CE FEATURES

THE teaser of Kangana Ranaut starrer Dhaakad is out. The film is a spy actioner directed by Razneesh Ghai. It is set to release on May 20, 2022. The trailer of the film is slated to release on Tuesday.

The 81-second teaser introduces Kangana as Agent Agni. The actor drips cool from the opening frames, which get bloodier by the count. We see her slash up enemy guts, lead a gun raid and gouge out eyes. When not wreaking mayhem, Agni trots out in a succession of intriguing disguises. "Seperating the soul from the body...," she declares at the end of the teaser. "That's my business." According to the makers, Kangana has learned a number of martial art forms and combat techniques to play Agent Agni. She is joined in the cast by Arjun Rampal (as the main antagonist Rudraveer), as well as Divya Dutta and Saswata Chatterjee. Dhaakad was filmed across Budapest, Mumbai and Bhopal. The film has been shot by Japanese cinematographer Tetsuo Nagata (La Vie en rose) and the action has been designed by an international crew.

Talking about the film, Kangana shares, "In our cinema, we rarely have heroines performing action scenes in the real sense. When Dhaakad came my way, I felt happy to see that someone had dared to visualise a woman in a hardcore commercial film as an action heroine. I'm all for daredevilry and doing something that pushes the envelope. There's nothing that does it like a good commercial film."
